Questions to be answered are selected for their general interest and helpfulness.

Growing Pains

Q. Why is the City of Lakewood taking out all the lovely trees on the west side of Lakewood Boulevard? T. B., Lakewood.

A. The soil was found to have too high an alkali (salt) content, and the acacia trees and ivy were growing poorly. Don Singer, Lakewood assistant administrator, said the trees and ivy are being taken out along Lakewood Boulevard from Del Amo Boulevard to Arbor Road. Chemicals to reduce the alkali content will be added to the soil. Singer said that in the fall new trees and ivy will be planted, although the trees will probably not be acacias.

Back Mac

Q. During Sen. McCarthy's presidential campaign last year, a group of Hollywood stars formed an organization to help him. I think the organization included actor Burt Lancaster. I'd like to know if it still is functioning. N. S., Torrance.

A. The Committee of Arts and Letters for Sen. Eugene McCarthy is not dead, but dormant, according to a spokesman for Lancaster. He said the spirit that formed the group remains even if their candidate's political future is cloudy. The committee sponsored actors and actresses to speak for McCarthy during the 1968 campaign. Among its members were Lancaster, Paul Newman, Jill St. John, Joanne Woodward and Rod Serling. One of its last large undertakings was a fund-raising party held last October to raise money for the persons arrested in Chicago.

HELP!

I have a problem and I'm hoping your readers can help. I run a project called Operation Pen Pal for our servicemen in Vietnam through the USO. this area. Any girls 16 or over who would like to correspond with these men can call me at 521-6183 for address. Betty Hawk, Buena Park.

Big Wheel

Q. I purchased an unclaimed crate for $20 and found an old spinning wheel inside. It is not an ordinary spinning wheel; the wheel is very large. Someone told me it might have been used for flax. Where can I find a picture of a flax spinning wheel? I need one for reference, because I think the wheel I have is missing some parts. N. N., Cypress.

A. ACTION LINE spun into your problem and located a picture of a mountain woman working at a colonial flax wheel in Mary Meigs Atwater's book, "The Shuttlecraft Book of American Hand Weaving." The book is available in the Long Beach Library, Pacific Avenue and Ocean Boulevard. However, ACTION LINE read a description of your spinning wheel to Betty Large, Americana and weaving expert. She said that you probably have an old wool spinning wheel. Mrs. Large has two colonial wool wheels of her own and said she would try to help you find parts for yours if you will contact her at the Weaver's Cottage, 305 N. Harbor Blvd., Fullerton, (714) 326-8223. A picture of the wool wheel can be found in Priscilla Sawyer Lord's book, "Folk Arts and Crafts of New England," available at the Orange County Library branch, 612 S. Brea Blvd., Brea, Calif.

Apple Appeal

Q. I won a crate of apples from a wholesale apple dealer in Tacoma, Wash., shortly before I moved down here. I was unable to pick up my prize and pack it in my small car, but now I'd really like those apples. S. R., Lakewood.

A. You're still entitled to your apple harvest as long as you've kept your winner's receipt, said Merle Hundsaker, sponsor of the "Eye the Apples" contest. You came the closest in guessing the number of apples on a particular tree, Mrs. Hundsaker said, "but we've held the apples here because mailing the whole crate to California was not part of the contest." She'd like to reunite you with your juicy prize, and said she will contact you to work out shipping arrangements.

REACTION

Did the person who complained about a cab refusing to pick him and his wheel chair up ever consider that the cab may have been on the way to pick up a telephone order? Or maybe having car trouble or a number of other problems? As a driver, I have had to pass "sidewalk customers" many times on my way to pick up telephone orders which always come first. Mrs. W. W., Long Beach.

Woman's Body in L.B. Lot

Nude, Young Victim Bound; Believed Killed Elsewhere

The nude body of a young unidentified woman—bound hand and foot—was found Friday concealed in some bushes in a vacant lot near Pacific Coast Highway and Temple Avenue.

Police said the woman, in her 20's, apparently was slain elsewhere and her body carried to the place where it was found shortly before noon by an unidentified window washer.

A spokesman for the coroner's office said the woman had been dead for several days and the badly decomposed condition of her body made identification difficult.

CAUSE OF DEATH was not immediately determined, although a rope was found tied around her neck which indicated strangulation.

None of the dead woman's clothing, her purse or other personal belongings were found at the scene, a vacant area at the rear of the Mart Furniture Store, 2750 E. Pacific Coast Highway. Homicide Detective Sgt. J. J. Hurlburt and Robert Bell said no bloodstains or other evidence were found near the body that would indicate she had been killed there.

They said the woman wore a wide, yellow gold wedding band on her left ring finger. The inside of the ring was of white gold.

THE VICTIM was described as a brunette with a "very slim" waist.

The concealed spot where the body was found, Hurlburt said, was less than 100 feet from the heavily traveled highway, and only four feet from the sidewalk.

Whether the woman was a victim of a sex attack was not determined pending an autopsy, the detectives said.

Hurlburt, Bell and other Long Beach officers were canvassing the area door-to-door late Friday, attempting to find possible witnesses to the crime.

UN's '70 Budget Totals $164,123,000

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — Secretary-General U Thant made public Friday a proposed U.N. budget for 1970 totaling $164,123,000. The appropriations for 1969 were $154,915,000. Most of the additional costs are attributed to increased salaries and prices.

Weekend Nippy Days Expected

Nippy weather for this time and place is predicted in Long Beach and other coastal sections of the Southland through the Labor Day weekend.

The nip isn't confined to shore areas, either. Lifeguards report sand sharks minimized in comparison with their fearsome big brothers — are prowling in and near the surfline at local beaches.

And the thermostat that regulates temperatures of the Pacific as it laps these shores seems to be out of order. Water readings have chilled to 63 degrees, or less, after holding in the low 70s most of August.

Air temperatures are forecast in the mid-70s for Long Beach maximums, the low 80s inland to the mountains, and continued hot — from 93 to 110 — in the desert.

Overnight cloudiness is expected everywhere, but hazy sunshine is forecast by mid-day at Southland beaches.

SOUTHLAND QUADS, Kennedy MOM DOING FINE Inquest Calls Nine

Four healthy babies and their Garden Grove mother were in satisfactory condition in Garden Park General Hospital Friday after premature birth by caesarean section.

The four boys—born to Mrs. Janice Curtin—ranged in weight from 2 pounds 10 ounces to 4 pounds 8 1/2 ounces.

"I'M STILL walking around in a daze," said Robert Curtin, 35-year-old father of quadruplets, an employee of the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power.

"That's about as big a family as we want."

The Curtins, of 19032 Bonser St., already have a 6-year-old son, Robert Patrick.

THE QUADS were delivered Thursday between 12:30 and 12:35 p.m. by Dr. Charles Plows at the Anaheim hospital. Mother and babies were doing satisfactorily, nurses said.

"We watch all small babies from 24 to 48 hours after birth," said Mary Brackney, director of nurses. "But the quadruplets are as good as can be expected, in fact better."

Nixon Prepares for Busy Week

SAN CLEMENTE (UPI) — President Nixon planned a relaxed Labor Day weekend before flying to Colorado Springs, Colo., Monday to tour the North American Defense Headquarters and address the National Governors' Conference.

Nixon spent Friday morning with his staff preparing for next week's official schedule, which includes a Cabinet meeting, and studying the tax-reform bill.

PRESIDENTIAL press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler reported that the President and his fiscal and economic advisers have been taking a close look at the tax reform bill passed by the House.

The House bill gives greater tax cuts to the middle income group than the Nixon Administration wants.

Asked whether Nixon would make a fight for his tax reform proposals, Ziegler said: "There have been some discussions regarding the tax-reform bill but I have no announcements" on the subject.

"I'm not in a position to discuss the President's position," he added.

The President also named the U.S. delegation to the UN General Assembly, which opens in New York Sept. 16, with former child movie star Shirley Temple Black among the representatives.

THE WESTERN White House said the chief executive would have a full schedule on next Monday's holiday trip to Colorado. He will fly to Peterson Field and then fly by helicopter to Cheyenne Mountain for private briefings by military commanders of NORAD, a joint United

97 Others Aboard to Be Freed

DAMASCUS, Syria (UPI) — An Arab guerrilla couple hijacked a Trans World Airlines jetliner bound from Rome to Tel Aviv Friday and forced it to fly to this Syrian capital, where police arrested all six Israelis aboard.

Syrian officials said the others among the 113 passengers and crew aboard the plane would be flown today to Beirut, Lebanon, from where they could depart for destinations of their choice.

Of the six Israelis detained, four were men and two women. One of them was Prof. Shmuel Samueloff, a lecturer in medicine at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem, but the others were not immediately identified.

A time-bomb set by the hijackers shattered the cockpit and nose assembly of the TWA Boeing 707 within minutes after the passengers and crew scrambled out of the craft at Damascus' new International Airport. Syrian officials said they had advised TWA it could claim the wrecked plane at any time.

An Arab guerrilla group based in Cairo, the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, released a statement several hours later claiming the hijackers were members of its "Guevara Squad" assigned to arrest one of the passengers for crimes against Arab refugees and trial before a "Palestinian revolutionary court." The squad bore the name of the late Cuban revolutionary Ernesto (Che) Guevara, but the PFLP statement did not identify the passenger sought by the hijackers.

The official Syrian Arab news agency said the hijackers wanted one of the passengers aboard to be punished in Syria "for the death and misery of many (Arab) Palestinians."

All Israeli passengers were escorted by police to a government hotel, the agency reported, and the man and the woman who hijacked the plane were taken into police custody.

The 85 other passengers and 12 crew members were placed in several Damascus hotels.

THE PLANE was one of two U.S. jetliners hijacked Friday. The other, a National Airlines Super 727 en route from Miami to New Orleans with 55 persons aboard, was hijacked to Havana by a Cuban who wanted to take his wife and three children back to their Shirley Temple Black, who as a curly-haired mop-top stole the hearts of millions of depression era moviegoers, was appointed to the U.S. delegation to the United Nations Friday by President Nixon. Mrs. Black, now 40 and a suburban Northern California housewife active in Republican politics, was one of five persons named as this nation's principal representatives to the next U.N. General Assembly session, which opens Sept. 16. She was on a fishing trip in Hawaii when her appointment was announced and was not immediately available for comment. The onetime child movie star, who is married to Charles Black and is the mother of three children, was an unsuccessful candidate for Congress in a special election in 1967. In the 1930s, she captivated audiences with her singing and dancing in such films as "Little Miss Marker," "Curly Top," "Heidi," and "The Little Colonel." Her dimpled charm brought her more than $3 million during her childhood stardom.

POWELL SEAT

U.S. District Court Judge George L. Hart Jr. formally certified Friday that Rep. Adam Clayton Powell was entitled to the seat the House denied him in the 90th Congress. But he left open the issue of back pay. The court order, a technical requirement under the Supreme Court's ruling that the Harlem Democrat was unconstitutionally excluded from the House, was filed in the form of an interim declaratory judgment.

BYRNES ILL

Former South Carolina Gov. James F. Byrnes was admitted to Baptist Hospital Friday and his personal physician said a heart attack is suspected. Dr. Izard Josey said diagnostic testing had not been completed but the 90-year-old former U.S. secretary of state was reported resting comfortably. Byrnes was admitted to the Columbia hospital Friday night.

Singer Frankie Avalon's wife, Kay, Friday gave birth to a son at St. Joseph's Hospital, Burbank. The infant, the Avalon's fifth child and third son, has been named Joseph Nicholas. He weighed 7 pounds, 9 ounces at birth.

RUSH DIVORCE

Actress Barbara Rush, 40, Friday received a default divorce from Hollywood publicity company executive Warren Jay Cowan, 48. Miss Rush testified Cowan left their family home last New Year's. The couple was married in 1959 and have a five-year-old daughter. Miss Rush's first marriage was to actor Jeffrey Hunter. It ended in divorce in 1955.

NAVARRO SUSPECT 'JUST SAD'

One of two brothers charged with murdering Ramon Navarro testified Friday he was "sad" when he learned the silent screen star was dead and later contemplated suicide rather than face a trial. Paul R. Ferguson, 23, who with his 18-year-old brother Thomas is on trial for the bludgeoning slaying of the one time silent screen lover, underwent his second day of cross-examination by his brother's attorney. The elder Ferguson has insisted in his testimony that he fell asleep at Navarro's Hollywood Hills home after drinking more than a fifth of vodka and other liquor and when he awoke his brother told him Navarro was dead. Asked how he felt after learning the actor was dead, Paul said, "just plain sad."

540 Tons of Bombs Blast Red Targets

Combined News Services

SAIGON, Saturday — American B-52 bombers flew six raids over jungle areas between Saigon and the Cambodian border early today pounding suspected new Communist troop concentrations thought to be preparing for offensive thrusts toward the capital. U.S. military spokesmen said the bombers dropped at least 540 tons of explosives on targets 80 to 90 miles from Saigon. Communists opened their "autumn offensive" in the same area, striking at allied positions and towns between Saigon and Cambodia. U.S. infantrymen patrolling northwest of the capital encountered a Communist force Friday and two Americans were killed and three wounded before the Communists withdrew. Communist losses were unknown.

Bare Plan to End Religious War

BELFAST — British Home Secretary James Callaghan said Friday night Northern Ireland government officials have agreed to a five-point plan designed to end centuries of feuding between Protestants and minority Catholics. The plan will not affect Northern Ireland's dominion status within the United Kingdom but separate from the independent Republic of Ireland. At a news conference concluding his three-day tour of the country's riot-scarred areas, Callaghan also promised a grant of $800,000 from Britain to help victims of the recent violence in which eight persons were killed and hundreds injured. Callaghan stressed that there would be no change in the constitutional status of the country despite some Catholic calls for union with the Dublin-based Irish Republic.

'To Hell With the Jews'

TEL AVIV — Israeli troops in Jerusalem Friday fired over the heads of rock-throwing Arabs who yelled, "To hell with the Jews" . . . Anti-Israeli demonstrations spread in the Islamic world in the Muslim sabbath. About 100 Arab youths and women were dispersed after the troops in Old City fired over their heads. It was the latest of continuing demonstrations against the burning of Al Aksah Mosque, despite Israel's denial of responsibility. In Pakistan, students denouncing "American help to Israel" burned a U.S. flag in Karachi. Thousands more staged protest marches in Rawalpindi.

Talks Set on U.S. Pullout

BANGKOK — U.S. officials said Friday initial withdrawals of American forces from Thailand will probably involve support elements rather than air combat units. Talks on the question are scheduled to open next week there between U.S. Ambassador Leonard Unger and Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman as part of President Nixon's plan to lower U.S. military involvement in Asia.

Confirm Arrest of Czech Writers

PRAGUE — Arrests of two Czechoslovak journalists during demonstrations over the first anniversary of the Warsaw Pact invasion were confirmed Friday. The two are Václav Novotný, former radio correspondent in West Germany, and Ludek Pachman, champion chess player and columnist and a supporter of 1968 reforms crushed by the invasion. A spokesman of the federal Interior Ministry confirmed Pachman's arrest. Rudek Pravo, the Communist party daily, said Novotný was detained as an "active participant in the riots" last week.

Soviet Launches Cosmos 296

MOSCOW — The Soviet Union launched the 296th unmanned satellite of its Cosmos series Friday. Tass news agency said Cosmos 296 was in orbit 130 to 200 miles above the earth and was continuing a program of space research.

Plan to Enforce Open Housing

WASHINGTON — The Nixon Administration intends to step up enforcement of federal laws guaranteeing open housing, an official of the Department of Housing and Urban Development said Friday. Samuel J. Simmons, assistant secretary for equal opportunity, said the department will no longer be content to wait for individuals to file complaints. The Justice Department filed its first suit in July against a real estate group in Chicago. Secretary George Romney is also considering a plan that would offer more than conciliation service to complainants. The plan, yet to be approved, would include public hearings before a federal examiner if conciliation fails.

GIs on Way Home Killed

A truck hit a Viet Cong mine, killing five New Hampshire National Guardsmen who were driving away from the battlefield on their way to get processed out of Vietnam for home, military spokesmen said Friday. The five were driving down a road 32 miles north of Saigon Tuesday when the truck's rear wheels hit 40 pounds of explosives. They were Spec. 4 Guy A. Blanchett, 22; Spec. 4 Roger E. Hubichan, 24; Spec. 5 Richard E. Benest, 24; Sgt. Richard P. Raymond, 27, and Spec. 4 Gaetan J. G. Baudoin, 20, all of Manchester, N.H. All were of the 3rd Battalion, 187th Artillery, which had arrived in Vietnam in September 1968 for a year's duty. All the rest of the battalion made it back to rear areas for processing home.

11 More Held in Racial Death

CAMP LEJEUNE — Eleven more Marines were charged Friday with rioting in the July 20 brawl at Camp Lejeune which resulted in the death of a white corporal. Marine authorities have arrested a total of 43 men in connection with the incident outside a base service club following a farewell party for the 6th Regiment. Tuesday, 26 Marines and one sailor were charged with rioting. Earlier, five enlisted men were charged with murder in the death of Cpl. Edward Rankston, 20, of Picayune, Miss. Rankston died eight days after the fight. He sustained a fractured skull when 30 Negro and Puerto Rican Marines attacked 14 whites.

Mayor Backs Building Shutdown

PITTSBURGH — Mayor Joseph M. Barr defended Friday a shutdown of the city's major construction projects to meet demands of Negro leaders, an action that has triggered an angry counter demonstration by white construction workers. "In closing down the construction projects maintenance of the peace was the primary consideration—as it should be," Barr told a jammed news conference. His statement came after white workers paraded in the streets to protest the shutdown which was precipitated by three days of demonstrations aimed at winning more craft union jobs for Negroes.

Meany for Wage-Price Controls

WASHINGTON Saturday — AFL-CIO President George Meany said today the only way to halt the nation's worst inflationary spiral in 18 years is for the government to declare a national emergency and impose wage-price controls. Meany said the nation's workers are caught in a bind and forced to demand higher and higher wage hikes because inflation, running at the rate of 6 per cent or more a year, is virtually wiping out the value of wage increases averaging some 7 per cent. This despite Nixon's efforts to cool the economy with tight money and federal budget cuts.

540 Tons of Bombs Blast Red Targets

Combined News Services

SAIGON, Saturday — American B-52 bombers flew six raids over jungle areas between Saigon and the Cambodian border early today pounding suspected new Communist troop concentrations thought to be preparing for offensive thrusts toward the capital. U.S. military spokesmen said the bombers dropped at least 540 tons of explosives on targets 80 to 90 miles from Saigon. Communists opened their "autumn offensive" in the same area, striking at allied positions and towns between Saigon and Cambodia. U.S. infantrymen patrolling northwest of the capital encountered a Communist force Friday and two Americans were killed and three wounded before the Communists withdrew. Communist losses were unknown.

Bare Plan to End Religious War

BELFAST — British Home Secretary James Callaghan said Friday night Northern Ireland government officials have agreed to a five-point plan designed to end centuries of feuding between Protestants and minority Catholics. The plan will not affect Northern Ireland's dominion status within the United Kingdom but separate from the independent Republic of Ireland. At a news conference concluding his three-day tour of the country's riot-scarred areas, Callaghan also promised a grant of $600,000 from Britain to help victims of the recent violence in which eight persons were killed and hundreds injured. Callaghan stressed that there would be no change in the constitutional status of the country despite some Catholic calls for union with the Dublin-based Irish Republic.

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

'Curly Top' Picked for U. N. Post

Combined News Service

Shirley Temple Black, who as a curlyhaired mop-top stole the hearts of millions of depression era moviegoers, was appointed to the U.S. delegation to the United Nations Friday by President Nixon. Mrs. Black, now 40 and a suburban Northern California housewife active in Republican politics, was one of five persons named as this nation's principal representatives to the next U.N. General Assembly session, which opens Sept. 16. She was on a fishing trip in Hawaii when her appointment was announced and was not immediately available for comment. The onetime child movie star, who is married to Charles Black and is the mother of three children, was an unsuccessful candidate for Congress in a special election in 1967. In the 1930s, she captivated audiences with her singing and dancing in such films as "Little Miss Marker," "Curly Top," "Heidi," and "The Little Colonel." Her dimpled charm brought her more than $3 million during her childhood stardom.

POWELL SEAT

U.S. District Court Judge George L. Hart Jr. formally certified Friday that Rep. Adam Clayton Powell was entitled to the seat the House denied him in the 90th Congress. But he left open the issue of back pay. The court order, a technical requirement under the Supreme Court's ruling that the Harlem Democrat was unconstitutionally excluded from the House, was filed in the form of an interim declaratory judgment.

BYRNES ILL

Former South Carolina Gov. James F. Byrnes was admitted to Baptist Hospital Friday and his personal physician said a heart attack is suspected. Dr. Izard Josey said diagnostic testing had not been completed but the 90-year-old former U.S. secretary of state was reported resting comfortably. Byrnes was admitted to the Columbia hospital Friday night.

AVALON BABY

Singer Frankie Avalon's wife, Kay, Friday gave birth to a son at St. Joseph's Hospital, Burbank. The infant, the Avalon's fifth child and third son, has been named Joseph Nicholas. He weighed 7 pounds, 9 ounces at birth.

RUSH DIVORCE

Actress Barbara Rush, 40, Friday received a default divorce from Hollywood publicity company executive Warren Jay Cowan, 48. Miss Rush testified Cowan left their family home last New Years. The couple was married in 1958 and have a five-year-old daughter. Miss Rush's first marriage was to actor Jeffrey Hunter. It ended in divorce in 1955.

NAVARRO SUSPECT 'JUST SAD'

One of two brothers charged with murdering Ramon Navarro testified Friday he was "sad" when he learned the silent screen star was dead and later contemplated suicide rather than face a trial. Paul B. Ferguson, 23, who with his 18-year-old brother Thomas is on trial for the bludgeoning slaying of the one time silent screen lover, underwent his second day of cross-examination by his brother's attorney. The elder Ferguson has insisted in his testimony that he fell asleep at Navarro's Hollywood Hills home after drinking more than a fifth of vodka and other liquor and when he awoke his brother told him Navarro was dead. Asked how he felt after learning the actor was dead, Paul said, "just plain sad."

BODYGUARD

Joseph Ouma, once bodyguard to assassinated cabinet Minister Tom Mboya, was convicted Friday of causing grievous bodily harm to Aliakana Oduor, organizer for the opposition Kenya People's Union party. Ouma denied stabbing Oduor in a brawl last Nov. 5 in Nairobi. The court sentenced him to five years imprisonment and 24 lashes.

ACTRESS DIES

Funeral services will be held today for Claire Whitney Keane, a former silent screen actress who died in a convalescent hospital Wednesday in Hollywood.

RABIES FATAL

Little Tommy Buchmann, the longest surviving rabies victim in medical annals, lost his five-month battle against the disease Friday, dying two days after his third birthday. The boy, whose valiant struggle for life aroused the nation's sympathy and brought more than $20,000 in donations from across the U.S. lived for 152 days after he was attacked and bitten by a rabid bobcat April 1 at his San Diego home. The longest previous survivor in medical records was a Kansas newsboy who died after 63 days.

STAR OF 'CAMELOT' ARRESTED

British actor Richard Harris was arrested early today and charged with assaulting police. He was detained after a disturbance outside the Talk of the Town cabaret in London's West End, police said. The star of "Camelot" who currently is making a movie on Oliver Cromwell, was officially accused of "assaulting two police officers in the execution of their duty." Sammy Davis Jr. is appearing at a late-night show at the club. Richard David Lock, described as Harris' assistant, was charged with obstructing police.

NO SCALE BAIL

Black Panther party chairman Bobby Seale was denied bail again Friday on Connecticut murder and kidnap charges. Municipal Judge John O'Kane said he felt he had no jurisdiction and ordered Seale, 32, returned to jail pending an extradition hearing. Gov. Ronald Reagan has until Sept. 24 to act on a request from Connecticut authorities to extradite Seale.

SANDBURG

The home and farm of famed poet Carl Sandburg at Flat Rock, North Carolina has officially become a historic site.

HOUSEKEEPER

Red-haired Miss Peggy Carey, 55, of Long Beach, who has been in the hotel business since age 14 takes over Wednesday as housekeeper of the White House in Washington. She and her mother maintain permanent residence in Long Beach.

ED-DIN DIES

Former Premier Said Zia Ed-Din died at his home at the village of Saadabad, northwest of Teheran Friday, a government communiqué said. He was 81. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Rafferty 'Leaning' to Re-Election Bid

SACRAMENTO (U) — Max Rafferty, saying schools should not "grovel in filth and garbage," moved closer Friday to seeking re-election as state superintendent of public instruction.

But strong opposition also threatened to move into the running.

In an interview Thursday, Rafferty said, "Although I'm not making any announcement, I'm leaning now in the direction of seeking another term."

SOURCES in the State Capitol and some educators reported moves to find a strong opponent for Rafferty next year. They base some of their opposition on the fact Rafferty campaigned for a partisan job in 1963 while holding the non-partisan post of state school chief.

Rafferty was unsuccessful Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate last year.

He also was asked Thursday about his role in prompting San Francisco school officials to withdraw two books by Negro activists Eldridge Cleaver and LeRoi Jones from high school black studies programs.

RAFFERTY replied he only was concerned about the books' obscenities. Schools should emphasize

"the finer things you want your children to know... but should not grovel in filth and garbage," he said.

President S. I. Hayakawa of San Francisco State College has been mentioned as a possible opponent of Rafferty for the schools post. Hayakawa has denied he is actively seeking any elective job.

Others mentioned as possible contenders for Rafferty's job are Richard M. Clowes, Los Angeles County school superintendent and former associate state school superintendent; J. Graham Sullivan, also a former associate state superintendent; a former federal education official and now deputy Los Angeles city school chief; Paul B. Salmon, Sacramento school superintendent and former Pasadena superintendent.

William L. Cunningham, superintendent of the Newport-Mesa Unified School District in Orange County; Leon Lessinger, former San Mateo County high school superintendent and now a federal education official, and two former Democratic Assemblymen — Charles R. Garrigus of Redding and Gordon H. Winton Jr. of Merced.

GARRIGUS is a veteran teacher and California Poet Laureate. Winton now is a lobbyist for the California Association of School Administrators.

Rafferty said he will base his decision on running next year on successful completion of some 27 proposals in education. The four or five remaining items include modification in the state provision for mandatory textbooks and changes in tenure laws to make it easier to dismiss teachers, with cause, Rafferty said.

Prospects would be dim for enactment of either proposal by early 1970.

BOWERS AMBULANCE; WE DELIVER

Clifford Richards' waiting room was open air as he paced the sidewalk at Market Street and Cedar Avenue in North Long Beach while his wife gave birth in the back of a stopped Bowers Ambulance shortly after 4:30 a.m. today.

Attendant Michael Watts delivered the eight-pound, two-ounce baby girl from the 24-year-old mother. Then the party moved on to Pacific Hospital, where both mother and child were reported doing fine.

Richards, 5229 Autry Ave., Lakewood, said he was driving his wife to the hospital when she told him she thought she was ready. He stopped at Long Beach Fire Station 11, where an ambulance was summoned.

The Santa Cruz County Grand Jury indicted Robert W. Robinson, 25, Aptos, on 38 counts of arson and attempted arson. He was held in lieu of $25,000 bail.

wood nightspot five days before he was murdered. Brandt described him as having "unfocusing, staring" eyes and said he asked Frokowsky if he was taking drugs.

"He said, 'Yes, it's mesaline. Want to buy some?' And he spoke of some new drug he was getting — something he called fairy dust. I told him 'I pass, Voityck.' I never did find out what fairy dust was," Brandt said.

POLICE scheduled a news conference for Tuesday "in the interest of better police-press relations" although they said there were no new developments. Newly appointed Police Chief Edward Davis and chief of detectives Robert Houghton will answer questions.

Inspector Harold Yarnell said police were questioning friends of the slaying victims in hopes of developing a lead in the case.

He said, "We haven't run out of people to talk to, but it's an uphill battle."

SUPER HOOPER

Melody Howe, 12, of Torrance, makes like a perpetual-motion machine while whirling four hula hoops simultaneously to win $1,000 U.S. savings bond first prize at National Hula Hoop Championships at Universal City Friday. Melody, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Burley Howe, out-hooped 13 other finalists to receive a trophy in addition to her bond. In all, 500,000 hoopers participated in regional championships nationwide.

Border City Ban 'Not Final'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department Friday stuck by its position that there has been no final decision on declaring several Mexican border cities off limits to U.S. military personnel to help curb illegal traffic in narcotics.

The 11th Naval District in San Diego said Thursday it has already decided to declare Tijuana off limits for 30 days.

Asked whether the district is wrong, a Pentagon spokesman said, "We would expect that all agencies of the Department of Defense would be using the words that we are using today."

Jerry Friedheim, Pentagon spokesman, acknowledged the Pentagon is concerned about the drug problem.

But he maintained that no final decision has been made as to which Mexican cities might be placed off limits, nor when nor for how long.

Firman Charged With 38 Fires

SANTA CRUZ (U) — A volunteer fireman and reserve deputy sheriff is charged with setting and attempting to set 38 area fires.

The Santa Cruz County Grand Jury indicted Robert W. Robinson, 25, Aptos, on 38 counts of arson and attempted arson. He was held in lieu of $25,000 bail.

Mother, Tot Die in Six-Car Pileup

A Corona del Mar woman, her two-month-old daughter and a Torrance man were killed Friday in a head-on crash on the San Diego Freeway in Carson that touched off a six-car, chain-reaction accident.

Dead were Mrs. Linda Jane Doehring, 24, of 2001 Altura St.; her infant daughter, Jodie Sue, and Donald Eccles, 31.

In a second accident, a Pasadena woman was killed when the car in which she was riding was struck from behind and pushed into the path of a third vehicle in Laguna Beach.

Mrs. Doehring's husband, Fred, 31, was in critical condition at Harbor General Hospital, Torrance. A passenger in their car, John Puccinelli, 22, of Newport Beach, was treated at the hospital for minor injuries and released.

ECCLES WAS driving north on the freeway near Wilmington Avenue when his car struck the center divider and hurtled over into the southbound lanes, landing in the path of the auto Mrs. Doehring was driving, California Highway Patrol officers said.

NEW CHIEF PROMISES PATIENCE

The veteran of 20 years with the force was sworn in during colorful ceremonies at Parker Center, the police building named for the late Chief, William Parker.

Davis, 52, former head of planning and control for the force, said the department would try to use a "minimum of force" in dealing with minority members.

Force, he said, will be used only when "persuasion and advice have first failed."

210,000 Pill Haul at Border

SAN DIEGO (U) — Police and U.S. customs agents have seized 210,000 heazdrine tablets brought from Mexico in two spare automobile tires. On the illegal market, the pills are worth $21,000.

Jailed for investigation of smuggling were Walter L. Higbee, 19, and Thomas G. Smith, 23. Both said they live in the San Jose area.

The tablets were recovered Thursday night in a San Diego motel.

"We followed another vehicle after it came across the border and staked it out when it parked in San Ysidro," said customs inspector Walter A. Gates.

"About an hour later, another car drove up and opened the trunk, removing two spare tires. They put the tires in the car, a rental, and drove north to San Diego."

Paul Douglas Steinke, 24, of Covina, who was alone in his car.

Christine Susan Mellin, 22, 291 Avocado St., Costa Mesa, and her passenger, Sandy Dinbar, 25, of Balboa Island.

Dan Vincent Owen, 17, and his passengers, Pat Brown, 18, and James Millway, 17, all of Onatario, Canada.

JEAN NIXON, 26, was killed in the 1900 block of Laguna Road.

Police said an auto driven by Del W. Christiansen, 18, of La Habra, struck the car driven by Miss Nixon's mother, June, 61, also of Pasadena, knocking it into a vehicle driven by Eugene O. Taylor, 17, of 4051 Newport Blvd., Newport Beach.

Mrs. Nixon was in critical condition at South Coast Hospital, where Taylor and Christiansen were treated for minor injuries.

Airline Pay Offer Rejected by Union

Representatives of about 4,000 Western Airlines clerical employees rejected Friday a 31 per cent wage increase over three years and said a strike vote will be taken next week.

"The wage offer is inadequate and unreasonable in view of the continually rising living costs and the prospect of continued inflation," said David Ligon, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Airline Clerks, AFL-CIO.

He said the same offer was accepted by the Teamsters, ending an 18-day strike by mechanics on Aug. 15.

Ligon said negotiations had been going on for almost three months and centered on wages and fringe benefits.

The union represents office workers, ticket counter personnel, commissary employes and baggage handlers. Their hourly wage ranges from $2.56 for a starting clerk to $3.50 for a station agent, Ligon said.

A spokesman for Western said the offer rejected by the clerks would have amounted to an average $1.20 in hourly increases over three years.

He said that in addition to an immediate salary hike, the company also offered approximately 35 cents an hour in additional fringe benefits including full company-paid pension plan and dental care.

Western reported Thursday it had lost almost $5 million during the first seven months of the year and $925,000 every day during the mechanics' strike.

Union officials said a membership meeting will be scheduled early next week to vote on a strike.

Bandit Gang Gets $5,000 at Market

An armed bandit gang which fled with $5,000 from a Downey supermarket was being hunted by police Friday.

Officers said the gang apparently is the same that hit another Downey supermarket a week ago and fled with $3,500 in cash.

The latest stickup occurred about midnight when six armed bandits walked into Beach's Market, 7900 Imperial Blvd., and threatened nine employees and customers at gunpoint.

While four gunmen guarded the victims, two others scooped the money from cash register drawers.

Additional money was stolen from the store's safe after the bandits forced the manager, Richard Heroux, to open it. They then ran from the store and fled in a car which had been reported stolen earlier in the day in Los Angeles.

Officers said they later found the stolen vehicle parked a few blocks from the store.

Officers said the six bandits involved in the stickup last week at Von's Market in Downey followed the same procedure and were of the same descriptions.

Sirhan Fee for Doctor is $10,811

Dr. Seymour Pollack, the prosecution psychologist in the murder trial of Sirhan B. Sirhan, received $10,811 from Los Angeles County for his services, county officials said Friday.

Pollack was the prosecution's only expert witness in the trial of Sirhan, who was condemned to die in the gas chamber for the June 1968 assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

A battery of psychiatrists and psychologists who testified for the defense claimed Sirhan's mental capacity was diminished when the 25-year-old Arab immigrant shot Kennedy.

Dr. Pollack agreed Sirhan was mentally ill, but said this didn't impair his mental capacity as related to the killing.

Supervisor Kenneth Hahn had asked Mark H. Bloodgood, the county auditor-controller, to review the bill. Hahn said Pollack's fee was excessive.

But Dist. Atty. Evelle J. Younger termed the psychiatrist's bill "modest," saying it did not actually cover all the time he spent on the case.

Younger said Pollack had agreed to work at the rate of $10 an hour.

Frokowsky's Ashes Flown to Poland

United Press International

The ashes of one of the victims of the Benedict Canyon massacre were flown to Poland Friday while police said they still have no suspect in the Aug. 9 slayings.

The remains of Voityck Frokowsky, 32, an immigrant from the European country, will be placed in St. Josef Cemetery in Lodz.

Frokowsky, a friend of movie director Roman Polanski at whose Los Angeles home the brutal killings occurred, has become a central figure in the search for the killer or killers. Polanski's wife, actress Sharon Tate, was among the victims.

Friends say Frokowsky was on an 8-to-13-day drug "trip" just prior to the slayings. Detectives were investigating the possibility that the crimes were the result of his involvement in illicit drug traffic.

THE LATEST report about Frokowsky's trip came from Hollywood writer Steve Brandt. He said he saw the man at a Holly-

Rafferty 'Leaning' to Re-Election Bid

SACRAMENTO — Max Rafferty, saying schools should not "grovel in filth and garbage," moved closer Friday to seeking re-election as state superintendent of public instruction.

But strong opposition also threatened to move into the running.

In an interview Thursday, Rafferty said, "Although I'm not making any announcement, I'm leaning now in the direction of seeking another term."

SOURCES in the State Capitol and some educators reported moves to find a strong opponent for Rafferty next year. They base some of their opposition on the fact Rafferty campaigned for a partisan job in 1968 while holding the non-partisan post of state school chief.

Rafferty was unsuccessful Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate last year.

He also was asked Thursday about his role in prompting San Francisco school officials to withdraw two books by Negro activists Eldridge Cleaver and LeRoi Jones from high school black studies programs.

RAFFERTY replied he only was concerned about the books' obscenities. Schools should emphasize

"the finer things you want your children to know... but should not grovel in filth and garbage," he said.

President S. I. Hayakawa of San Francisco State College has been mentioned as a possible opponent of Rafferty for the schools post. Hayakawa has denied he is actively seeking any elective job.

Others mentioned as possible contenders for Rafferty's job are Richard M. Clowes, Los Angeles County school superintendent and former associate state school superintendent; J. Graham Sullivan, also a former associate state superintendent; a former federal education official and now deputy Los Angeles city school chief; Paul B. Salmon, Sacramento school superintendent and former Pasadena superintendent.

William L. Cunningham, superintendent of the Newport-Mesa Unified School District in Orange County; Leon Lessinger, former San Mateo County high school superintendent and now a federal education official; and two former Democratic Assemblymen — Charles B. Garrigus of Redley and Gordon H. Winton Jr. of Merced.

GARRIGUS is a veteran teacher and California Poet Laureate. Winton now is a lobbyist for the California Association of School Administrators.

Rafferty said he will base his decision on running next year on successful completion of some 27 proposals in education. The four or five remaining items include modification in the state provision for mandatory textbooks and changes in tenure laws to make it easier to dismiss teachers, with cause, Rafferty said.

Prospects would be dim for enactment of either proposal by early 1970.

Sirhan Fee for Doctor is $10,811

Dr. Seymour Pollack, the prosecution psychologist in the murder trial of Sirhan B. Sirhan, received $10,811 from Los Angeles County for his services, county officials said Friday.

Pollack was the prosecution's only expert witness in the trial of Sirhan, who was condemned to die in the gas chamber for the June 1968 assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

A battery of psychiatrists and psychologists who testified for the defense claimed Sirhan's mental capacity was diminished when the 25-year-old Arab immigrant shot Kennedy.

Dr. Pollack agreed Sirhan was mentally ill, but said this didn't impair his mental capacity as related to the killing.

Supervisor Kenneth Iahn had asked Mark H. Bloodgood, the county auditor-controller, to review the bill. Iahn said Pollack's fee was excessive.

But Dist. Atty. Evelle J. Younger termed the psychiatrist's bill "modest," saying it did not actually cover all the time he spent on the case.

United Press International

The ashes of one of the victims of the Benedict Canyon massacre were flown to Poland Friday while police said they still have no suspect in the Aug. 9 slayings.

The remains of Wojtek Frokowsky, 32, an immigrant from the European country, will be placed in St. Josef Cemetery in Lodz.

Frokowsky, a friend of movie director Roman Polanski at whose Los Angeles home the brutal killings occurred, has become a central figure in the search for the killer or killers. Polanski's wife, actress Sharon Tate, was among the victims.

Friends say Frokowsky was on an 8-to-13-day drug "trip" just prior to the slayings. Detectives were investigating the possibility that the crimes were the result of his involvement in illicit drug traffic.

THE LATEST report about Frokowsky's trip came from Hollywood writer Steve Brandt. He said he saw the man at a Hollywood nightclub five days before he was murdered. Brandt described him as having "unfocusing, staring" eyes and said he asked Frokowsky if he was taking drugs.

"He said, 'Yes, it's me-caine. Want to buy some?'" And he spoke of some new drug he was getting — something he called fairy dust. I told him 'I pass, Wojtek.' I never did find out what fairy dust was," Brandt said.

POLICE scheduled a news conference for Tuesday "in the interest of better police-public relations" although they said there were no new developments.

Newly appointed Police Chief Edward Davis and chief of detectives Robert Houghton will answer questions.

Inspector Harold Yarnell said police were questioning friends of the slaying victims in hopes of developing a lead in the case.

He said, "We haven't run out of people to talk to, but it's an uphill battle."

SUPER HOOPER

Melody Howe, 12, of Torrance, makes like a perpetual-motion machine while whirling four hula hoops simultaneously to win $1,000 U.S. savings bond first prize at National Hula Hoop Championships at Universal City Friday. Melody, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Burley Howe, out-hooped 13 other finalists to receive a trophy in addition to her bond. In all, 500,000 hoopers participated in regional championships nationwide.

Border City Ban 'Not Final'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department Friday stuck by its position that there has been no final decision on declaring several Mexican border cities off limits to U.S. military personnel to help curb illegal traffic in narcotics.

The 11th Naval District in San Diego said Thursday it has already decided to declare Tijuana off limits for 30 days.

Asked whether the district is wrong, a Pentagon spokesman said, "We would expect that all agencies of the Department of Defense would be using the words that we are using today."

Jerry Friedheim, Pentagon spokesman, acknowledged the Pentagon is concerned about the drug problem.

But he maintained that no final decision has been made as to which Mexican cities might be placed off limits, nor when nor for how long.

Fireman Charged With 38 Fires

SANTA CRUZ — A volunteer fireman and reserve deputy sheriff is charged with setting and attempting to set 38 area fires.

The Santa Cruz County Grand Jury indicted Robert W. Robinson, 25, Aptos, on 38 counts of arson and attempted arson. He was held in lieu of $25,000 bail.

Mother, Tot Die in Six-Car Pileup

A Corona del Mar woman, her two-month-old daughter and a Torrance man were killed Friday in a head-on crash on the San Diego Freeway in Carson that touched off a six-car, chain-reaction accident.

Dead were Mrs. Linda Jane Doebring, 24, of 2001 Altura St.; her infant daughter, Jodie Sue, and Donald Eccles, 31.

In a second accident, a Pasadena woman was killed when the car in which she was riding was struck from behind and pushed into the path of a third vehicle in Laguna Beach.

Mrs. Doebring's husband, Fred, 31, was in critical condition at Harbor General Hospital, Torrance. A passenger in their car, John Puccinelli, 22, of Newport Beach, was treated at the hospital for minor injuries and released.

ECCLES WAS driving north on the freeway near Wilmington Avenue when his car struck the center divider and hurtled over into the southbound lanes, landing in the path of the auto Mrs. Doebring was driving, California Highway Patrol officers said.

JEAN NIXON, 26, was killed in the 1900 block of Laguna Road.

Police said an auto driven by Del W. Christiansen, 18, of La Habra, struck the car driven by Miss Nixon's mother, June, 61, also of Pasadena, knocking it into a vehicle driven by Eugene O. Taylor, 17, of 1051 Newport Blvd., Newport Beach.

Mrs. Nixon was in critical condition at South Coast Hospital, where Taylor and Christiansen were treated for minor injuries.

NEW CHIEF PROMISES PATIENCE

The veteran of 20 years with the force was sworn in during colorful ceremonies at Parker Center, the police building named for the late Chief, William Parker.

Davis, 52, former head of planning and control for the force, said the department would try to use a "minimum of force" in dealing with minority members.

Force, he said, will be used only when "persuasion and advice have first failed."

210,000 Pill Haul at Border

SAN DIEGO — Police and U.S. customs agents have seized 210,000 benzodrine tablets brought from Mexico in two spare automobile tires. On the illegal market, the pills are worth $21,000.

Jailed for investigation of smuggling were Walter L. Higbee, 19, and Thomas G. Smith, 23. Both said they live in the San Jose area.

The tablets were recovered Thursday night in a San Diego motel.

"We followed another vehicle after it came across the border and stalked it out when it parked in San Ysidro," said customs inspector Walter A. Gates.

"About an hour later, another car drove up and opened the trunk, removing two spare tires. They put the tires in the car, a rental, and drove north to San Diego."

Christine Susan Mellin, 22, 281 Avocado St., Costa Mesa, and her passenger, Sandy Dinbar, 25, of Balboa Island.

Patricia Ann Knapp, 22, of 9155 Pacific Ave., Anaheim, and her passengers, Ruth Anne Alae, 22, same address, and Kathy Johnston, 22, of San Jose.

Dan Vincent Owen, 17, and his passengers, Pat Brown, 18, and James Millway, 17, all of Ontario, Canada.

Police said an auto driven by Del W. Christiansen, 18, of La Habra, struck the car driven by Miss Nixon's mother, June, 61, also of Pasadena, knocking it into a vehicle driven by Eugene O. Taylor, 17, of 1051 Newport Blvd., Newport Beach.

Mrs. Nixon was in critical condition at South Coast Hospital, where Taylor and Christiansen were treated for minor injuries.

Airline Pay Offer Rejected by Union

Representatives of about 4,000 Western Airlines clerical employees rejected Friday a 34 per cent wage increase over three years and said a strike vote will be taken next week.

"The wage offer is inadequate and unreasonable in view of the continually rising living costs and the prospect of continued inflation," said David Ligon, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Airline Clerks, AFL-CIO.

He said the same offer was accepted by the Teamsters, ending an 18-day strike by mechanics on Aug. 15.

Ligon said negotiations had been going on for almost three months and centered on wages and fringe benefits.

The union represents office workers, ticket counter personnel, commissary employes and baggage handlers. Their hourly wage ranges from $2.56 for a starting clerk to $3.50 for a station agent, Ligon said.

A spokesman for Western said the offer rejected by the clerks would have amounted to an average $1.20 in hourly increases over three years.

He said that in addition to an immediate salary hike, the company also offered approximately 35 cents an hour in additional fringe benefits including full company-paid pension plan and dental care.

Western reported Thursday it had lost almost $5 million during the first seven months of the year and $925,000 every day during the mechanics' strike.

Union officials said a membership meeting will be scheduled early next week to vote on a strike.

Bandit Gang Gets $5,000 at Market

An armed bandit gang which fled with $5,000 from a Downey supermarket was being hunted by police Friday.

Officers said the gang apparently is the same that hit another Downey supermarket a week ago and fled with $3,500 in cash.

The latest stickup occurred about midnight when six armed bandits walked into Beach's Market, 7900 Imperial Blvd., and threatened nine employees and customers at gunpoint.

While four gunmen guarded the victims, two others scooped the money

from cash register drawers.

Additional money was stolen from the store's safe after the bandits forced the manager, Leonard Heroux, to open it. They then ran from the store and fled in a car which had been reported stolen earlier in the day in Los Angeles.

Officers said they later found the stolen vehicle parked a few blocks from the store.

Officers said the six bandits involved in the stickup last week at Von's Market in Downey followed the same procedure and were of the same descriptions.

Elvis Top Draw in Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Elvis Presley, making his first Las Vegas appearance in 13 years, drew 101,500 persons in four weeks, the International Hotel said Friday.

At $15 minimum per person that would mean he brought in more than $1.5 million in dinner and cocktail show fees, not to mention gambling revenue.

A SURVEY of 10 writers and hotel executives in Las Vegas indicated that Presley, who closed Thursday, has joined Frank Sinatra and Dean Martin as one of the city's top draws.

Martin drew more than 50,000 at the Riviera Hotel in a shorter period, three weeks, this summer, and was in a smaller showroom, capacity 1,200. The International holds 1,500 for dinner shows and 2,000 at midnight.

Sinatra made only 20 appearances in May at the 1,200-seat showroom at Caesars Palace. A capacity crowd saw most shows, and many were turned away from shows for all three performers.

THE LANGUAGE OF LOVE

Public love scenes are different from those that might occur in private by virtue of the number of people involved. Things have to be just so when hundreds of thousands of viewers are likely to participate, vicariously, in every move one makes in bed. Witness the hovering concern shown by director Vittorio de Sica as he coaches lovely Sophia Loren and her partner, Marcello Mastroianni in bedroom bit for the film "Sunflower," at Vigevano, Italy. Despite the looming presence of the director the success of such scenes is thought to result from the fact that the language of love, is international.

Inger Stevens Socks Away Funds for Day Bloom Fades

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — It's a wise actress who stuffs a few dollars in an old sock against the day when the bloom is off the blossom and she must descend to live among mere mortals.

Inger Stevens prudently has been socking away her money with the assistance of a tax accountant for the past eight years.

"They'll never hold a benefit for me," said the blonde Swedish import. "And the only reason I'll ever go to the motion picture country home is to entertain the old timers out there."

INGER HAS real estate investments in addition to financial interests in day care centers for children, convalescent homes, a chain of pharmacies and bank stock.

"I also have a $100 bill tucked away just in case," she said.

"And I was advised to set up a trust fund for myself many years ago."

When the money began rolling in from film work and her television series, "The Farmer's Daughter," Inger eschewed mansions, servants and a closeful of furs.

Her only extravagance is two houses; one in the Hollywood Hills, the other at Malibu Beach.

"I feel guilty about that," Inger said. "I don't think anyone should own two washers and dryers, two stoves and refrigerators and all that. It seems unfair and such a waste. But I do love both my homes and spend a lot of time in them."

"I'VE WORKED hard for a long time, and I don't want to end those years without relaxing and enjoying life."

"At the moment my financial situation is such that I'm not being pressed to work. So I can travel and move around. Maybe 10 years from now that won't be possible."

Inger who is single, was sunburned and freckled from a long weekend at the beach. She looked anything but a tycoon.

"A girl can take care of herself in this town," she said, "but you have to take time to make the right investments and be fortunate enough to earn the money to begin with."

"When I first came in Hollywood I fell into the trap of trying to keep up appearances with the right cars, clothes and all that. Then people would advise me to spend my money because everything was a write-off. Not so. I ended up paying cash, not writing off."

"I'm not thrifty about money, but I don't live extravagantly either. I simply don't worry about it."

Inger looked singularly unworried as she headed back for the beach, a most independent Swedish lass.

BIT PARTS: E. G. Marshall has completed 20 five-minute television tapes opposing smoking cigarettes. Richard Dawson of "Hogan's Heroes" will emcee a new CBS-TV game show, "Lucky Pair."

Victor Borge is the latest entertainment personality to open a string of food franchises.

'Stars of Tomorrow' at Bowl

By DANIEL CARIAGA
Music Critic

A fresh and youthful reexamination of six chestnut-standards of the repertory was what Hollywood Bowl had to offer at the penultimate Thursday concert of this 48th summer season.

On the podium, leading the Los Angeles Philharmonic in works by Weber, Smetana, Ravel, Britten, Liszt, and Stravinsky, were three winners of the 1968 Dmitri Mitropoulos Competition; soloist was another prize-winning young musician, pianist Paul Schenley.

Unfortunately, what the Bowl was offering, very few were taking; the sparsest audience of the summer dotted the hillside on this chilly evening. Even the airplanes stayed away.

It would be nice to be

BORIS BROTT

FRANCOIS HUYBRECHTS

able to report a triumphant debut for each of these promising conductors — Francois Huybrechts from Belgium, Farhad Meekhat of Iran, and Boris Brott, a native of Montreal. But that would be stretching the truth.

In the case of Brott, who conducted the entire post-intermission—Liszt's E-flat Concerto and Stravinsky's "Firebird" Suite—the debut was impressive. His accompaniment to young Schenley's solid but unprojected playing of the concerto was complete and cooperative, and his "Firebird" was easily the best playing the orchestra did all night—loud, directional, clean, and balanced. The 25-year old Canadian obviously knows what he is about, communicates effectively with an orchestra, and looks the part.

His associates, both of whom have just completed a year's apprenticeship under Leonard Bernstein at the New York Philharmonic, also displayed promise, but less achievement in a purely musical way.

Both Huybrechts, conducting the "Euryanthe" Overture, and "The Moldau," and Meekhat, who led Ravel's "Pavane," and Benjamin Britten's "A Young Person's Guide to the Orchestra," chose slow, exposed tempi, and attempted readings more concerned with details than with totalities. Having built their own traps, each one promptly fell in.

Until "Firebird," the Los Angeles Philharmonic played nervously and under par; the French horns, in particular, were having an off-night. Under the circumstances, one could sympathize with them.

20th Century Fox Officially Diversifies in Real Estate

NEW YORK (UPI) — Twentieth Century Fox Film Corp. dropped the word "film" from its title and officially diversified into a mammoth real estate company.

A new real subsidiary announced by the company, and the elimination of the word "film" was part of a program to "emphasize Fox's desire to move into areas beyond films," according to Daryl F. Zanuck, chairman of the board.

The subsidiary will be responsible for Fox land holdings in Century City and Malibu, Calif., New York, Great Britain, Australia, New Zealand, Canada, Latin America and the Middle East.

Zanuck reported the company would initially convert 10 acres of the firm's studio land to high-rise apartment sites.

Fox reported a net loss of $4,604,000 for the second quarter of 1969, the first loss since 1952, when Zanuck assumed the presidency of Fox.

He and Richard Zanuck, current president, said 14 films have recently been completed by Fox, creating "the strongest inventory of product in the company's history."

Long Negotiations Seen for 3 Fliers in Korea

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Saturday (UPI) — Recalling past experience, U.S. military authorities today prepared for lengthy negotiations with North Korea to secure the release of three Americans captured when their helicopter was shot down Aug. 17.

North Korea disclosed at a meeting of the Korean Armistice Commission Friday morning that the men were alive but injured. As the price for their return, the Communists demanded that the United States admit its guilt for the incident, apologize and assure that it will not be repeated.

The North Koreans said two of the crewmen, Capt. David H. Crow of Pooler, Ga., and Spec. 4 Herman E. Hofstatter of Lowpoint, Ill., were seriously injured. They said the pilot, was Malcolm V. Loepke of Richmond, Ind., suffered light injuries.

(In Chicago, Rev. Paul Lindstrom, head of the Remembrance of the Pueblo Committee, said his group had begun private negotiations with North Korea for the release of the men and expected them to gain their freedom Sept. 10. The Defense Department refused comment on Lindstrom's announcement.)

According to the United Nations Command, the unarmed OH23 helicopter was on a training mission from its base about 10 miles north of Seoul when it accidentally strayed into North Korean air space near the western tip of the truce front and was shot down.

At the armistice meeting, the chief North Korean delegate, Maj. Gen. Ri Choon-sun, made it clear the Communists would follow past practices in negotiation the return of the helicopter crewmen.

He asked the United States to admit having sent a military aircraft into North Korea and violating North Korean airspace in a flagrant violation of the armistice agreement. He also demanded an apology and a documented guarantee that the United States will not commit a similar act.

"If your side submits such a document, following past practice, we will be ready to consider your request for the return of the pilots," Ri said.

IN THE past, North Korea has forced the U.N. Command to admit its guilt in similar incidents before freeing captured personnel. The command has complied with such requests to secure release of the men.

North Korean ground fire shot down a U.S. Army helicopter in the demilitarized zone on May 17, 1963. One year later, on May 17, 1964, the two crewmen finally were freed but the chopper was kept by the North Koreans.

On Jan. 23, 1968, North Korean ships captured the U.S. Navy intelligence gathering ship Pueblo off North Korea's coast in the Japan Sea. Its 82 crewmen were released 11 months later only after the United States admitted its guilt in the matter—a statement refused as soon as the men were safely out of Communist hands.

Maj. Gen. Arthur H. Adams, senior delegate of the U.N. Command, told the North Koreans the helicopter was not dispatched to fly over Communist territory and had no hostile intent.

Mansfield to Hold Far East Hearings

New York Times Service

WASHINGTON — Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, returning from a 16-day trip to Southeast Asia undertaken at President Nixon's request, said Friday he would begin extensive hearings late this congressional session, or early next, on United States policies in the Far East.

Mansfield is chairman of the Far Eastern Affairs subcommittee of the Foreign Relations Committee. As examples of subjects the hearing would deal with, the Montana Democrat mentioned the 1944 Laurel-Langley agreement with the Philippines, governing trade and investment relationships between the two countries, which expires in 1974, and a revision of the post-war agreement with Japan on Okinawa, under which Japan is assured "residual sovereignty" though the U.S. retains authority over the island.

MORE IMPORTANT, however, the Mansfield hearings are expected to examine existing policies within the framework of the "Nixon Doctrine" enunciated by the President at a news conference on Guam July 25.

Mansfield said that the U.S. was "a Pacific power," and as such would continue to play "a significant role in Asia." However, he added, the U.S. while keeping its treaty commitments, would henceforth expect friendly Asian nations to handle their own security problems except where there was a threat from "a major power involving nuclear weapons."

In an interview Friday, Mansfield said that last March, Nixon had asked him to go to Cambodia in an effort to persuade Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the head of state, to re-establish relations with the U.S. that the prince had broken off in 1965. Mansfield is a personal friend of Sihanouk.

WHEN THE President returned from his own Asian trip in July, Mansfield said, he asked the majority leader to visit some of the same Southeast Asian nations he had visited to expound further the Nixon doctrine and to report on its reception.

Mansfield visited the Philippines, Indonesia, Burma, Laos and Cambodia.

"What I did primarily," Mansfield said, "was to explain that the U.S. is a Pacific power but with peripheral interests on the mainland, and that we did not intend to get involved in internal problems of countries on the mainland, or to use American manpower on the mainland except under most extraordinary circumstances affecting the security and defense of the U.S. — which I do not think Vietnam does."

The senator said that the heads of state of all the five nations were "generally pleased with the President's new policies."

The dedication on the Rio Grande will be a stopover for Nixon en route back to Washington after a month-long stay at his new Western White House in Southern California.

Despite reports to the contrary, the White House said Nixon had no plans to address the United Nations. American presidents traditionally appear before the world organization.

Chrysler Has Plans for New 'Tiny Car'

New York Times Service

DALLAS, Tex. — The Chrysler Corp. announced Friday it will build an almost-Volkswagen-size car.

Chrysler is the last of the four American automobile makers to enter the booming tiny car market. Its version, code-named "The 25 Car," will be in production by spring or summer of 1971.

The move will intensify the struggle among the American carmakers and major foreign manufacturers, such as the German Volkswagen and Japanese Toyota in the American market and virtually guarantee that in another two years a full-scale war will be on, bringing smaller, cheaper - to - operate automobiles to the market with traditional American-style price competition.

Lynn Townsend, the Chrysler chairman, who made the announcement, did not put a price tag on the coming car but these VW-size models generally are expected to be priced under $2,000, and two of the other three scheduled by American companies will carry gasoline-saving four cylinder engines.

Reagan Due Back Monday

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan returns to work Monday after a three-week vacation by attending the National Governors' conference in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Reagan returns to Sacramento Wednesday for two days and departs Friday for the Philippines as President Nixon's representative at the dedication of a new cultural center in Manila.

Prior to leaving for the Philippines, Reagan plans to address the annual Sacramento host committee breakfast Friday at Hotel El Deodoro.

STUDENT DRUG USER He's About What Adults Expected

New York Times Service

NEW YORK — A profile of the student drug user is beginning to emerge from statistical studies of the campus drug scene, and he appears to be in fact very much as he is seen in fantasy by his elders.

Perhaps the clearest portrait of both the turned-on student and his straight classmate has been traced by a group of social scientists in California. Their conclusions, based on interviews and questionnaires, are generally supported, or at least not contradicted, by the findings of other investigators.

The student who has some familiarity with drugs — meaning, principally, the amphetamines ("pep pills"), marijuana and LSD — is likely to be a middle-class or upper-middle-class male majoring in the humanities or the social sciences at a college or university in or near an urban center. He probably disagrees with his parents' politics and is himself a left-wing activist.

HE IS LIKELY to have moved several times during his childhood and early adolescence. He probably characterizes himself as nonreligious in the traditional sense. Sports are of little importance to him, as are campus clubs and groups.

He is generally dissatisfied with his courses and teachers and what he sees as the irrelevance of his education, with the institution's administration, with the society he grew up in and the world as it is.

These are some of the student drug user's characteristics found by Dr. Richard H. Blum and his associates, mainly at the Institute for the Study of Human Problems at Stanford University, in their survey of 1,200 students at five western colleges and universities in the 1967 academic year.

Their findings were published earlier this year as the second volume of two, under the title "Students and Drugs." The project was financed in part by the National Institute of Mental Health.

THE STUDENT in what was then the "big minority" — Blum reported that a smaller 1968 follow-up study indicates that the "majority of the students" had some illicit drug experience — is likely also to be a coffee drinker and to be familiar with both tobacco and alcohol.

He quite probably sees himself as one of the "idealistic innovators," or even revolutionaries, but however much he would like to change the world, he is pessimistic about his future prospects. As for his past, he is likely to "consistently recall the advantages of being sick as a child." Beyond that, Blum notes, the small number of students who retain "a perception of parents as not caring" are heavy drug users.

The student abstainer, according to the Blum study, is generally "younger, poorer, more conservative and religious, and more satisfied with present and future prospects" than the user. The study constructs a prototype non-user, called Paul, whom it describes as the "more solid and simple of the two."

He is comparatively unimaginative but probably like "the more independent." He is without the pressures of "rampant or compulsive opposition" to his parents, although limited by a "commitment to family, institutional and cultural values which he cannot and probably would not wish to escape."

HE IS LIKELY to be a science or technology major and live on the campus; to be very involved with sports and to be moving politically, if at all, from his parents' moderate conservatism toward being a liberal Democrat. He is no activist politically, nor fervently religious. Coffee is not his drink, nor tea, but he is more likely to drink cocoa than his drug-using counterpart — and more likely to make use of proprietary "stay-awake" preparations.

There is, the Blum study finds, no significant difference in grades received by the two groups of students, although the user is more likely to be considering dropping out of college.

The five colleges from which Blum's sample was taken are a private university, a Catholic university, a state university and college and a junior college. The drug-use rates ranged, in the case of marijuana, from a low of 10 per cent at the state university, situated in a small city in a rural area, to a high of 33 per cent at the state college, the largest of the five and that with the highest proportion of students majoring in the humanities.

The range for hallucinogen use was from 2 per cent of the students at the state university to 9 per cent at the state college, the study found.

State Spent More Than It Collected

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state spent $144.25 million more than it received in the general fund during July but ended the month with a $139.85 million cash balance, Controller Houston J. Flournoy reported Friday.

The controller said the $309.36 million cash carryover from the 1968-69 fiscal year which ended June 30 absorbed the difference between the $136 million revenue receipts and $280.27 million spending during July.

Thousands Protest Tax Bill Safety Council Predicts 725 Holiday Deaths

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee, preparing for hearings on the House's tax reform bill, is receiving thousands of letters with much of the mail protesting its provisions on capital gains and charity deductions.

Tightening up of charitable deductions is being hit hard by universities and other organizations which solicit widely for tax-exempt gifts.

The capital gains provisions — they would increase the tax and lengthen the holding period — are drawing heavy mail protest. Much of it, committee staff members say, is being stimulated by mutual funds and stockbrokers.

So far the committee has received more than 600 requests from prospective witnesses to testify on the bill. Only for weeks have been set aside for the hearings at the insistence of Democratic leaders.

They want the bill on the Senate floor by Oct. 31 and to the White House in the present session.

The staff therefore is hoping that the total number of witnesses can be winnowed down to not more than 400.

Even 400 would place an almost unprecedented burden on the panel, particularly at a time when there will be much Senate activity on other legislation.

This would mean hearing and questioning 100 witnesses a week, or 20 a day.

Thousands of Southlanders took to the freeways late Friday in search of fun and relaxation.

Many three-day "vacationers" headed for Las Vegas and the San Clemente-San Diego area, prompted by hopes of getting a glimpse of President Nixon.

Elsewhere across the nation an expected record number wheeled onto the highways on summer's last holiday weekend.

The National Safety Council said up to 725 persons may die in traffic accidents before the Labor Day weekend ends at midnight Monday.

In Washington Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe urged drivers to show extra caution.

From Long Beach, New Jersey state highway patrols and local police mobilized to help motorists protect themselves from other drivers and their own mistakes.

The Safety Council said virtually all of the nation's 100 million motor vehicles would be on the highways during the holiday period from 6 p.m. local time Friday to midnight Monday.

The council estimated that between 625 and 725 persons would die in traffic accidents and as many as 29,000 would suffer disabling injuries, scores were expected to drown in swimming and boating mishaps.

Howard Pyle, president of the NSC, said if every motorist and passenger wore a seat belt "a minimum of 75 lives could be saved."

VOLPE SAID that "as we put 10,000 new cars on the highways every day, it becomes obvious that we increase the possibilities and probabilities for fatal mishaps, despite the great strides in constructing safer highways."

"It doesn't take crystal balls to predict a huge upsurge in the number of fatalities over the Labor Day weekend," he said, "when we recognize the fact that the three-day period probably will establish a record for the number of cars on the road."

To ease the travel crush, the San Francisco Fire Department scheduled a "stay at home family picnic" in Golden Gate Park. A real estate developer in the Chicago suburb of Park Forest offered to pay for parties for 3,500 tenants.

Indiana state troopers planned to stop cars and ask motorists to buckle up seat belts. Maine's Highway Safety Committee asked drivers to apply "the greatest highway safety device known to man — the human mind."

A recently formed tactical squad of West Virginia state police geared to zero in on a 22-mile stretch of highway — a high accident rate zone — between Charleston and Clendenin, W. Va.

The 62-year-old Judge laid down his rules of procedure after denying motions to grant the lawyers the right to cross-examine witnesses, to seek rulings on various aspects of testimony and to have the power to compel attendance of witnesses.

THE LAWYERS filed exceptions, which in effect opened the way for appeals to other courts.

The crux of the situation is a contention by the lawyers that the inquest is an accusatorial proceeding and that the constitutional rights of due process of law should prevail.

THE woman, identified as Ramona Hawley Starr, died at Los Angeles County-USC Medical Center three hours after she fell from the Hollywood Freeway from the Bronson Avenue overpass.

Police say she struck her head on the pavement, and was not hit by an oncoming traffic.

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state spent $144.25 million more than it received in the general fund during July but ended the month with a $139.85 million cash balance, Controller Houston I. Flournoy reported Friday.

The controller said the $309.35 million cash carryover from the 1968-69 fiscal year which ended June 30 absorbed the difference between the $136 million revenue receipts and $289.27 million spending during July.

Safety Council Predicts 725 Holiday Deaths

Thousands of Southland motorists took to the freeways late Friday in search of fun and relaxation.

Many three-day vacationers headed for Las Vegas and the San Clemente-San Diego area, prompted by hopes of getting a glimpse of President Nixon.

Elsewhere across the nation an expected record number wheeled onto the highways on summer's last holiday weekend.

The National Safety Council said up to 725 persons may die in traffic accidents before the Labor Day weekend ends at midnight Monday.

In Washington Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe urged drivers to show extra caution.

From Long Beach, New Jersey state highway patrol and local police mobilized to help motorists protect themselves from other drivers and their own mistakes.

The Safety Council said virtually all of the nation's 100 million motor vehicles would be on the highways during the holiday period.

der unspecified circumstances.

The 62-year-old Judge laid down his rules of procedure after denying motions to grant the lawyers the right to cross-examine witnesses, to seek rulings on various aspects of testimony and to have the power to compel attendance of witnesses.

THE LAWYERS filed exceptions, which in effect opened the way for appeals to other courts.

The crux of the situation is a contention by the lawyers that the inquest is an accusatorial proceeding and that the constitutional rights of due process of law should prevail.

from 6 p.m. local time Friday to midnight Monday.

The council estimated that between 625 and 725 persons would die in traffic accidents and as many as 29,000 would suffer disabling injuries, scores were expected to drown in swimming and boating mishaps.

Howard Pyle, president of the NSC, said if every motorist and passenger wore a seat belt "a minimum of 75 lives could be saved."

VOLPE SAID that "as we put 10,000 new cars on the highways every day, it becomes obvious that we increase the possibilities and probabilities for fatal mishaps, despite the great strides in constructing safer highways."

"It doesn't take crystal balls to predict a huge upsurge in the number of fatalities over the Labor Day weekend," he said, "when we recognize the fact that the three-day period probably will establish a record for the number of cars on the road."

To ease the travel crush, the San Francisco Fire Department scheduled a "stay at home family picnic" in Golden Gate Park. A real estate developer in the Chicago suburb of Park Forest offered to pay for parties for 3,500 tenants.

Indiana state troopers planned to stop cars and ask motorists to buckle up seat belts. Maine's Highway Safety Committee asked drivers to apply "the greatest highway safety device known to man — the human mind."

A recently formed tactical squad of West Virginia state police geared to zero in on a 22-mile stretch of highway — a high accident rate zone — between Charleston and Clendenin, W. Va.

L. A. COUNTY Projects Hang On 4 Votes

By BILL MAYER
From Our L.A. Bureau

Road projects in Bellflower and Compton may get the required four votes Tuesday that they couldn't get earlier when two Los Angeles County supervisors were on vacation.

State law provides that, in some matters, a simple majority will not do.

The Bellflower job fell into this class. County Counsel John Maharg explained, because it involved a $50,000 transfer of funds. The Compton project will mean setting up a special assessment in the affected neighborhood.

IN BELFLOWER, the fund transfer from county to city will make it possible to widen Bellflower Boulevard between Alondra and Arlesia Boulevards, and Rosecrans Avenue from Clark Avenue to Bellflower Boulevard.

The money comes from state gasoline taxes.

In Compton, the improvements are sought in Parley Avenue and other nearby streets.

A CARSON PROJECT needing only three votes, calls for awarding a $222,825 contract to Sully-Miller Contracting Co. of Long Beach for rebuilding Victoria Street from Avalon Boulevard to Central Avenue. This one involves everything from resurfacing to installing new traffic signals.

Still another road job involves improving Rosecrans Avenue in Paramount. Bids will be opened Sept. 10. Like Victoria Street in Carson, this is a major county project. The contract calls for new curbs, gutters, drives and walks, an asphalt concrete surface, sewers, and more efficient traffic signals.

A SECOND Compton matter, needing only three votes, reaches the contract-awarding phase Tuesday. Nelson and Belding Contracting Co. of Gardena is to improve five streets for $124,314. They are Willowbrook Avenue between Stockwell and Oris streets; Stockwell from Willowbrook to Mona Boulevard; Lucien Street from Oleander Street to Willowbrook; and Vesla Avenue and Oleander from Wayside Street to Stockwell.

Nelson and Belding are to install new pavement, curbs, gutters, sidewalks and drainage facilities.

Supervisors Kenneth Hahn and Frank Bonelli were on vacation when the four-vote matters came up earlier. All five board members said they would be on hand next Tuesday.

The others are Burton Chace, Ernest Debs and Warren Dorn.

Day lilies are desirable perennials that respond to care, and attention, yet don't need much fussing. They bloom, though sparsely, in poor soil. You can grow them in full sun or partial shade even under trees — as an informal hedge bordering a driveway or a walk — set them in groups of three, casually dotted in specific spots among annuals or perennials — showy in a bed by themselves — or as container plants for the patio, porch, or walled in gardens.

A gardener took a potted day lily plant about to bloom and put it in his living room. It started to flower and continued blooming for two weeks. Almost daily, as an old flower or two faded, several new ones would open. The plant was put back outdoors after it had finished flowering and fed a complete plant food. About three months later it began to bloom again, because it was one of the newer repeat-blooming day lilies.

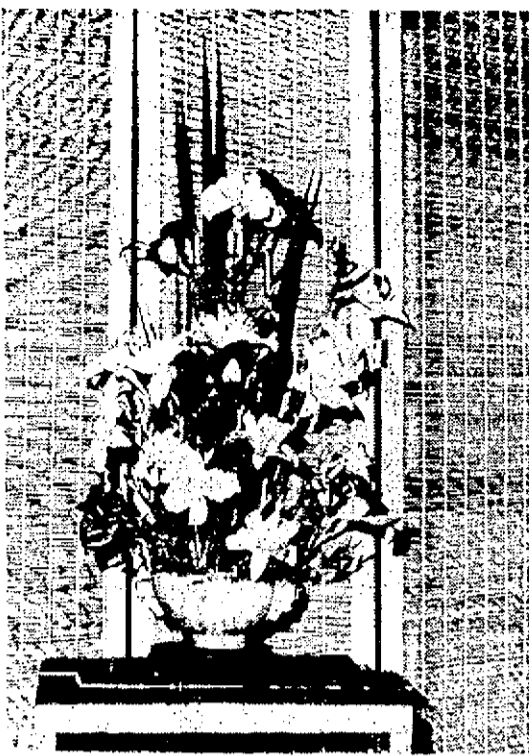

THERE ARE evergreen day lilies and the deciduous kinds. They are available in tones of orange, yellows, peach, melon, red, light and dark pinks. There are several lightly fragrant ones too.

Work some organic material and bone meal into the soil when you plant them. Water them generously but don't keep the soil constantly damp. Fertilize them, and some will respond to the feeding by blooming again the same year.

Frequent light superficial waterings doesn't furnish enough deep watering to slake the plants' thirst. Worse still there's the possibility of building up an alkali salts problem causing brown spots near edges of camellia foliage, brown leaf edges of rhododendron, azaleas, liquidambar, roses, citrus, and brown sore-like spots in magnolia leaves and brown along leaf edges.

CONTAINER plants, too, are likely to suffer from such frequent and shallow waterings, and show similar signs on the foliage.

There's quite a difference between an alkali leaf burn and sunburn. The sunburn usually occurs on the central bent portion of the leaf and is a light tan color, reminding of a white cloth scorched by an overly hot iron.

DAY LILIES ... Don't Need Fussing

The first corrective measure is to water the plants slowly and deeply. It is better to water deeply while the soil is damp, contrary to the belief that it is best to first let the soil get quite dry before slow deep watering (leaching-rinsing). Follow up the deep watering with one of the chemical "irons" or with one of the liquid "soil conditioners-soil rinses."

Q. We usually harvest a good crop of avocados each year from our only tree. Again it is full of fruit, but the fruit is falling or dropping off by the dozens.

I can't figure out what causes this. Do avocados need deep watering at times? Would appreciate very much if you can give us help in this matter.

A. Yes, avocados need deep watering, only down to two feet depth. The tree needs to be watered two to three feet beyond the drip-line of the tree. Hot weather plus lack of enough even moisture content in the soil, too, could cause fruit drop. An over abundance of fruit could result in the tree's natural fruit thinning condition.

Q. I have had good results from ammonia sulphate on a mixed Bermuda lawn plenty of crab grass. I would like to add some T.S.P. What amount should I use to a 20 pound bag of Ammonia sulphate?

A. Please check about T.S.P. at your source of purchase. I'm guessing that by T.S.P. you refer to Triple Super Phosphate. If so, what is your reason for wanting to use it with the fertilizer you mentioned on a bermuda lawn?

JOBS TO DO NOW

Give newly set out plants a deep drink of water fortified with vitamin B-1. Repeat such watering once a week for five or six weeks on one of the times you'd normally be watering those plants.

Mums are vigorous growers and need periodic feedings about once every three weeks until the flower buds begin to show color. Give them generous drinks of water when they thirst. Foliage baths them early mornings of hot days.

Plant those ground covers just as soon as you can for fast growth and to get them established before cold weather comes.

Foliage bathe camellias in the evenings to provide a humid condition. Be sure to deep-water them periodically. One of the camellia bud drop causes of good blooming camellias is eratic and insufficient watering.

Trim back shamel ash tree to shape. Young trees should be topped twice a year for the first two to three years to force more branch growth, hence lower height and shapelier trees.

Buick Features New Styling for 1970 Skylark, GS Autos

By ART STEPHAN
Automotive Editor

Buick Motor Division of General Motors will introduce its 1970 cars Sept. 10, featuring newly-styled Skylark and GS models and a new station wagon.

The new models go on display in dealer showrooms Sept. 18.

While styling emphasis was placed on intermediate-sized cars, Riviera, Electra, Wildcat and LeSabre models have also undergone significant changes such as new grilles, bumpers and ornamentation.

"In addition to styling and engineering changes, we have made important strides in simplifying and serviceability of 1970 models," says Lee N. Mays, general manager of Buick.

"The serviceability of the instrument panel components has been increased with innovations such as snap-on speedometer cable connections, air conditioning outlet hoses which can be quickly disconnected and easier replacement of turn signal switches."

The Skylark and GS models feature a lengthened hood and shortened rear deck, with horizontal body accent lines flowing from wheel openings.

All models in Buick's intermediate line will have side impact bars in the doors and rear quarter panels. This safety feature was introduced last year on all upper series models.

For the first time in many years, Buick will offer a luxury Estate Wagon in its upper series autos.

The new wagon, which will be available with either two or three seats, is mounted on a 124-inch wheelbase and is powered by a new 455-cubic-inch engine.

New front and rear styling has been done on the luxury Electra series.

A new 455 cubic inch engine will replace the 430 cubic inch engine in the Riviera, Electra, Wildcat and Estate Wagon.

New Law Protects Credit Card Losers

Two bills protecting credit card owners from liabilities from stolen or unsolicited credit cards have been signed into law by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Both bills were authored by Assemblyman James Hayes, R-Long Beach, chairman of the Assembly Judiciary Committee.

THE FIRST BILL allows the cardholder to limit his liability if his credit card is lost or stolen. All he has to do is notify the company that issued the card by "telephone, telegram or letter."

"By giving such notice, the cardholder will not have to pay for any charges improperly placed on his card account from the time of theft or loss of the card," Hayes said.

The bill also prevents liability against the cardholder if a credit card was unsolicited, so long as the cardholder doesn't use the credit card to buy a product or pay for services.

The second bill requires credit card companies to furnish cardholders with an itemized statement of all penalties, assessments and charges with each billing.

"THESE BILLS set the limits of civil liability and provide a reasonable means of terminating liability where credit cards are lost or stolen," Hayes said.

"Today, when almost everyone is using credit cards for many purposes, it's imperative guidelines be established to terminate liability where the cards are lost or stolen and set forth all charges added to the account for delayed payments."

Hayes said the new laws will become effective about Nov. 15 and supersede all other credit card laws.

LUAU SET AT HOSPITAL

Patients at El Cerritos Hospital, a county rehabilitation center, will be treated to an "island vacation," today when Tahitian, Samoan, Hawaiian and Tonka Island singers and dancers — all college students — perform at a festive luau program.

Six Vie for Anti-Poverty Exec. Post

A selection committee Friday sought to pick three persons from a field of six candidates for appointment to the $12,600-per-year post of executive director of the Orange County Community Action Council.

The selection may be made Sept. 10 by the 36-member board of directors of the CAC, which in slightly more than three years is about to have its third administrator of poverty programs in the county.

HARRY HOLMBERG, who was principal of a Garden Grove school, was the first administrator. He quit suddenly in early 1968 after less than two years on the job.

Ron Luncford, a Negro, succeeded him in May 1968 and served until last month, leaving to lecture on sociology at California State College, Long Beach and to research at a La Jolla study center.

Eleven candidates, eight from Orange County, sought the appointment. The field was narrowed to six, and the screening committee, headed by Jess Perez of Placentia, will thin it to three for selection by the poverty board. — By Bob Gelvet.

Mrs. Severson Services Today

Services will be at 10 a.m. today in Westwood Memorial Park for Mrs. Antoinette F. Severson, mother of Charles F. Severson Jr., general manager of the Long Beach contracting firm of Millie and Severson Inc.

Mrs. Severson, 78, widow of Army Col. Charles F. Severson, died Thursday in her Westwood home. She is also survived by another son, John E., of Salinas.

The family suggests contributions to the Heart Association.

Fire Station Due for Rolling Hills

County officials will open bids Sept. 30 for a contract to build a new fire station in Rolling Hills Estates.

Professional Taxes Due by Tuesday

From Our L.A. Bureau

Businessmen and industrialists who haven't paid non real estate property taxes should get their checks to the county tax collector by 5 p.m. Tuesday.

Otherwise, they face a 6 per cent penalty.

The imposts are mostly on inventory and other so-called "personal property" in rented commercial and manufacturing establishments.

Tax Collector Harold Ostly said owners of boats and airplanes also face the Tuesday deadline. He said about $100 million still has not been paid.

Home owners and apartment dwellers are not involved.

Postal Carrier Adrian McLane Collapses, Dies

Adrian B. McLane, 102, Angela Walk, veteran postal carrier who delivered mail to the Long Beach business district, collapsed and died during his lunch break in a Pine Avenue restaurant, it was learned Friday.

The 58-year-old carrier, who had been with the Post Office in Long Beach since 1937, was standing in the service line Thursday at Hubert's Cafeteria, 218 E. Broadway, when he collapsed, police were told.

McLane was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Mary's Hospital. Funeral arrangements are pending at Boone-Reno Mortuary.

3400 Tools Taken

Burglars forced open a garage door at the home of Walter Stepkowski, 4431 Faculty Ave., and removed a tool box and tools valued at $400, police said Friday.

Forecast for Sunday

YOUR BIRTHDAY TODAY: Your life takes a creative, productive turn this year and never reveals. The new interest that develops are apt to crowd out what has been routine. Some of the jobs are uninteresting. Today natives are versatile, often good at telling long and complex tales.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Nothing to do, nowhere to go but to just be yourself. An errand you had not expected brings you into an unexpected place of a critical moment.

CANCER (June 21-July 21): It is time for further experiments with modern equipment, up-to-date methods of doing everything.

LEO (July 22-Aug. 22): Be of church early, stay a bit late. The rest of the day is up to you. There will be several invitations. Just come home early, meditate.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Today your tolerance of careless habits or values will be tested. You may as well hold to what you really believe in, but do so from the start, tactfully but firmly.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Your path this day may lead you among some traditionally demure, sensitive people and others of extravagant habits. Bear in mind you cannot be quite the same and needn't try.

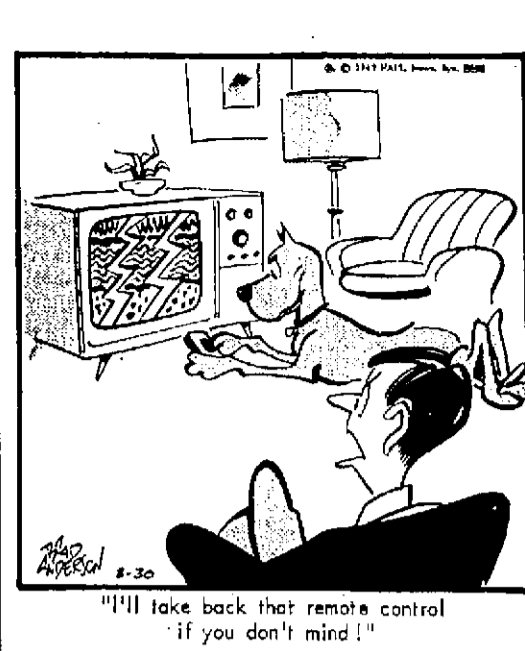

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Unplanned attractions are quite possible. Certainly your earlier ideas of what you want to do are subject to abrupt revision by the needs of your companions.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): The outdoors beckons. Enjoy with leisure your routine. Pursue romantic and sentimental interests wholeheartedly this afternoon.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Settle an early squabble quickly and go on with the day as gently as possible. There are new and exciting people to meet and begin sharing plans with. Build relationships quickly.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): It is all right to be a softy, receptive or even sulky mood, but without indulging others. There will be much to cheer you if you simply cooperate. Avoid discussing business.

Sub Alvin Banks Back Nixon Recovered, Student Loan Plea Under Tow

NANTUCKET LIGHTSHIP (UPI) — The research submarine Alvin, hoisted from the ocean floor 5,000 feet down in the deepest submarine recovery ever, passed Nantucket Lightship headed for Woods Hole, Mass., Friday.

The 23-foot, 21-ton Alvin, the vessel which found a hydrogen bomb in 3,400 feet of water off Palomares, Spain, was making 1 1/2 knots under tow 50 feet below the surface.

The Navy research vessel Mizar, working with the submarine Alvin, hoisted the Alvin off the floor of the ocean 140 miles southeast of Woods Hole on Thursday.

The 73-ton Aluminant lowered a loggie bar through an open hatch of the Alvin and the Mizar pulled it up with a 7,000-foot long nylon line 4 1/2 inches in diameter.

The Alvin was lost Oct. 16, 1968, when a launching cable parted. The three-man crew scrambled out without injury as water poured in through the hatches, sending the craft to the bottom.

The Mizar and the Alvin were to anchor off Gay Head, Martha's Vineyard, 81 miles from the lightship across Vineyard Sound from Woods Hole. Sunday night and a crane was to lift the submarine to the barge Monday for the trip to the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, operator of the Alvin for the Navy.

$15,700,965 Forest Revenue for Counties

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California counties will receive nearly double last year's receipts from the 17 national forests in the state.

A record $15,700,965 will be distributed to counties on the basis of forest acreage in each county. This is 25 per cent of forest gross receipts.

Trinity County, with three national forests within its boundaries, will receive the top amount, $2,017,113. Second is Siskiyou County with $1,801,897 from four forests.

JESUS WAS BOTH, MINISTER SAYS Misuse of 'Conservative, Liberal' Is Hit in Sermon

EDIT NOTE — From time to time we will publish a sermon by an area minister on a topic of wide general interest. This sermon was preached at United Presbyterian Church of the Good Shepherd, Los Alamitos, by the pastor, Rev. C. Virgel Zierbel.)

INDEPENDENT PRESS-TELEGRAM NEWS OF RELIGION

INDEPENDENT PRESS-TELEGRAM-A-9
LONG BEACH, CALIF., Sat., Aug. 30, 1969

But recently the church has been in such turmoil that we have to ask whether this tension is not getting out of hand and no longer serves a creative purpose. It is no longer constructive, but destructive! The forces are too polarized and the tension has ceased to be creative.

The word "liberal" has such good overtones. According to the dictionary, it means "(1) tolerant of views differing from your own, (2) favoring reform or progress, (3) tending toward personal freedom, (4) progressive, (5) open-mindedness to ideas that challenge tradition and established institutions." "Militant" means the main element, idea, or feature.

So far the liberal these ideals of personal freedom, progressiveness, open-mindedness, reformulation keep repeating themselves as with the main theme of a symphony. To the person who prides himself on being a liberal, this word means something so positive and wholesome that it would be unthinkable for him to be anything else.

The same can be said of "conservative." Webster says it means "tending to preserve established traditions or institutions." It also means "moderate, prudent, safe."

THESE SEEM like such obvious virtues that the conservative person cannot understand why a man would not want to be a conservative. "Stance" means "posture — the way one stands, especially with reference to the feet, as in sports." So a batter at the plate or a golfer on the green will have a certain stance. A conservative is firm in his convictions. To him a "liberal" is a dangerous person, because he threatens to overthrow established traditions and institutions. He is "playing into the hands of the Communists."

These words, liberal and conservative, have become so emotionally charged that their use tends to cloud our thinking rather than clarifying it. It has become a "visceral" matter. A person can really get hurt if he discovers his friend or his son or his daughter has a view different from his own. The trouble with this over-simplification is that it is not

BIBLE SOCIETY HEAD INTERVIEWED, HERE FRIDAY

Secular Age? Scriptures Are Hottest Publishing Item Going

DR. DEAN S. Collins and Mary Dorr, leaders of the American Bible Society in the West, will take part in churchwomen's forum in Long Beach Friday.

Church of God Sets New Giving Mark

ANDERSON, Ind. — The Church of God has established a new record in total giving for outreach causes with $2,215,447 reported during 1968-69.

Per capita giving of $15.09 also is a new record, being increased from $10 during the last seven years. The church has adopted an all-time high budget of $2,275,000 for 1969-70.

By LES RODNEY

In a supposedly secular time, distribution of the Good Book is smashing all records.

This is in large part due to the stubborn and well-organized efforts of the American Bible Society. The man who directs the society's work in 11 Western states, where 13 million copies of Scripture were distributed last year, will be one of the interesting guests Friday at a forum on the Bible sponsored by Long Beach Church Women United.

He is Dr. Dean S. Collins, whose wide-ranging background includes World War II regional recreation representative for the government, organizer of 128 servicemen's centers in the Midwest, social service director for the Chicago United Presbyterian Church, and a master's degree in social work. Plus a recent visit to Germany at the invitation of church leaders there, during which he visited with congregations in Eastern Germany.

SHOULD MAKE for an interesting session Friday at Trinity Lutheran Church, Eighth Street and Linden Avenue, starting with coffee and social time at 9:30 a.m. Interested men will NOT be thrown out, the churchwomen note.

Also speaking will be Mary Dorr, TV and radio personality who is national president of American Women in Radio and Television, the professional association of women broadcasters, is a licensed pilot and was recently named secretary for women's activities in the American Bible Society's Western region.

Interviewed this week, Dr. Collins explained that the historic function of the non-denominational society, which is supported by more than 80 Protestant groups, is to "translate, publish and distribute Scriptures without note and comment, and to encourage its use."

This unchanging objective dates back to 1776.

"It was against English law to print any of the Scriptures in the 13 colonies," he explained. "All Bibles had to be brought from England. So when the Revolutionary War came, the supply was cut off."

THE CONTINENTAL Congress authorized printing of 20,000, a mammoth order for the printing presses of Germantown, Pa. But when the war ended, the new nation went back to England for its Bibles. Along came the War of 1812, and the supply dried up again.

No longer sure that war with England might not become a regular thing, those determined to keep the Scriptures flowing into the growing country officially founded the American Bible Society.

In those days, of course, the King James Version was "it." Now there are many Bible translations in English, including the American Bible Society's own phenomenally successful "Good News for Modern Man."

"We provide whichever version is acceptable to those doing the distributing," Dr. Collins said. "Many still prefer the King James, some the Revised Standard Version, a few the American Standard."

The "Good News" version, made available by the Society at only 35 cents, has in not quite three years sold over 15 1/2 million copies. This already rates it number three on the all-time list of best selling American paperbacks, behind only an English-Spanish dictionary published by the University of Chicago in 1927, and Dr. Spock's book on child care.

It is the New Testament written in very simple, basic modern English, with a vocabulary of about 3,000 words. Its surprised publishers actually intended it primarily for readers with a limited education, or those for whom English is a second language. But it found a far wider response, not only in supermarkets and drug stores, but on campuses and through many major denominations. A similar Old Testament edition is in the works, under forced draft.

"Good News outside Valley of the Dolls two years ago, and a second Rosemary's Baby last year," Dr. Collins related. "It doesn't even have a close competitor among the paperbacks this year."

AMONG THE many methods of distribution of Scriptures is a sort of "tie in" deal whereby the Society provides the expertise and organization — and Scripture portions to be given out free — to churches of a given area whose members combine to conduct a house-to-house religion poll.

The Society estimates that about one fourth of its distribution is free — gifts to the Armed Forces, prisons, hospitals, in urban ghettos. Recently 50,000 were specially run off for the YMCA.

Dr. Collins and Mrs. Dorr will have a wealth of practical experience from which to suggest to Long Beach women possibilities of expanded evangelistic outreach with Scripture, getting it into local rest homes, jails, juvenile detention halls, to service men, the elderly and the ill, as well as the blind, and the near blind. For the latter there is now a Good News edition in large 18 point print, as well as "talking Bibles" on records and tapes.

The Society takes no "positions" beyond distributing of the Word.

"We feel the Bible has to be the base for whatever actions the church undertakes," Dr. Collins said. "We don't enter into any discussion or controversy about the nature of those activities. We supply the base."

For the first time since the Reformation, he added, a Roman Catholic imprimatur has been placed on a Bible written by Protestant scholars, the "Good News," this, in the spirit of growing cooperation, opens new vistas or distribution, he notes.

THE SOCIETY works in 150 countries, and one full book of the Bible has already been translated into 1,392 languages, many more languages than most folks imagine exist.

Just recently, Dr. Collins said with evident satisfaction, the president of Romania surprisingly gave permission for the church there to print 100,000 Bibles.

"The government apparently thought there was no paper available for this. We took them at their word, and rushed two big truckloads of paper across Europe to Bucharest. We rode shotgun on that delivery. The Romanian Bibles are being printed."

Increased distribution of Scriptures, Dr. Collins believes, "can only indicate a hunger for the Word. We have found this true of all age groups, including young rebels, on campus and off."

IN THE WESTERN states, there were one million copies of the Bible or portions thereof distributed in 1959. The goal of three million was met for 1966, the society's 150th anniversary. Last year it zoomed over 13 million. "This year, 23 million," says Dr. Collins.

Asked whether the society runs into much opposition, he couldn't recall any worth mentioning, then with a smile amended: "Well, in our Western states office in Los Angeles."

KNOLLS GUEST AN OLD FRIEND

Rev. George P. Tinsley, retired after 60 years in the ministry which included pastorate at Eastside Christian Church, will be pulpit guest Sunday, 10 a.m. in Bixby Knolls Christian Church, 1240 E. Carson St., speaking on "Extension or Extinction." His theme: "Civilizations have arisen and have perished; nations have become rich and powerful, but they too have fallen. Individuals have become intellectuals and have lapsed into senility and perished. When then is the answer to extinction?"

ies, we have an open Bible in the window. Every morning there for a while, there was a squirt of tobacco juice on the window pane, directed toward the Bible. One morning it stopped, and that was it."

Dr. Collins would like to think that the unknown Bible-bater finally got to read some of the message in the window, judiciously changed to pertinent passages.

But in any case, the messily picturesque expression of opinion didn't stack up very weightily against the overwhelming trend of increased interest in Scriptures in the "secular city" of the 1960s.

Also on the Friday program in Long Beach will be Mrs. Gordon K. Anderson of Community Assistance to Homeless Youngsters, who will show a film about this work.

GRAHAM CRUSADE DIRECTOR TO PREACH IN CHURCH HERE

Rev. Harry B. Williams, crusade director for the forthcoming Billy Graham Crusade in Anaheim Stadium, will be guest speaker at the 9 and 10:30 a.m. services Sunday in First Baptist Church of Lakewood, 5336 Arbor Road.

Rev. Williams served most recently in Portland, Ore., where he directed preparations for the Pacific Northwest Crusade. In the London Crusade of 1964 he was in charge of closed-circuit TV arrangements to bring the meetings to additional thousands.

The church has designated Sunday as Billy Graham Day, and will show the Graham film "Century 21," filmed at the Seattle World Fair, in the evening service.

'Conservative and Liberal'

fied dichotomy is that it causes people to stop thinking and to get all "up-tight" over words.

A person who prides himself on being a "liberal" may actually hold some views that are considered "conservative," but he would be horrified if anyone would pin him with that label.

Likewise a "conservative" may hold certain "liberal" views, but he wouldn't want to be called one.

We have mistakenly thought that if a man is one, he couldn't possibly be the other. And this is too bad. I think we ought to stop using these oversimplified polarities, or else stop and explain what we mean whenever we say "liberal" or "conservative."

President Richard Nixon has been thought of as a conservative, yet he has come up with a new welfare program that is going to cost around $4 billion. This is additional and for the first year! He calls it the "new federalism." It will double the number of persons on the federal dole.

This sounds like the proposal of a man with a liberal motif. Yet some critics of the administration say $4 billion is not enough. They want even more of a welfare state, and to their way of thinking Nixon is still assuming a conservative stance.

THE CHURCH of today has in its membership both liberals and conservatives. Each group should recognize the positive values the other has to offer. "Liberals" must see the importance of conserving traditional faith and doctrine. "Conservatives" must see the value of change that reaches out in the spirit of Christ to serve people better.

We must not condemn one another by oversimplification and name-calling. In these days we cannot afford to allow this old dichotomy to use up our energies.

Whether we consider ourselves liberal or conservative, we should welcome the corrective the other can bring to us.

"Believe" and "have faith" are modern words. But "believe what" and "have faith in what" are relevant questions. Faith that is centered in the wrong person, place or thing will not be honored by God nor beneficial to the person.

"Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ" is the creed of the Bible and the New Testament Church. Christ-centered faith is the stabilizing factor for your life and for society.

Any church that directs your faith toward the person of Christ is God's witness to you. Any church that directs your faith from Christ and places it in a church, apostle, or the Ten Commandments is the instrument of Satan to keep you from Christ.

Salvation is in Him. Preservation is in Him. Strength is in Him. And hope is in Him.

Calvary Baptist joins hands with John the Baptist in pointing to Christ.

Come to Calvary! Calvary is for you!

A similar Old Testament edition is in the works, under forced draft.

"Good News outsold Valley of the Dolls two years ago, and outsold Rosemary's Baby last year," Dr. Collins related. "It doesn't even have a close competitor among the paperbacks this year."

AMONG THE many methods of distribution of Scriptures is a sort of "life in" deal whereby the Society provides the expertise and organization — and Scripture portions to be given out free — to churches of a given area whose members combine to conduct a house-to-house religion poll.

The Society estimates that about one fourth of its distribution is free — gifts to the Armed Forces, prisons, hospitals, in urban ghettos. Recently 50,000 were specially run off for the YMCA.

Dr. Collins and Mrs. Dorr will have a wealth of practical experience from which to suggest to Long Beach women possibilities of expanded evangelistic outreach with Scripture, getting it into local rest homes, jails, juvenile detention halls, to service men, the elderly and the ill, as well as the blind, and the near blind. For the latter there is now a Good News edition in large 18 point print, as well as "talking Bibles" on records and tapes.

The Society takes no "positions" beyond distributing of the Word.

"We feel the Bible has to be the base for whatever actions the church undertakes," Dr. Collins said. "We don't enter into any discussion or controversy about the nature of those activities. We supply the base."

For the first time since the Reformation, he added, a Roman Catholic imprimatur has been placed on a Bible written by Protestant scholars, the "Good News," this, in the spirit of growing cooperation, opens new vistas or distribution, he notes.

THE SOCIETY works in 150 countries, and one full book of the Bible has already been translated into 1,392 languages, many more languages than most folks imagine exist.

Just recently, Dr. Collins said with evident satisfaction, the president of Romania surprisingly gave permission for the church to print 100,000 Bibles.

"The government apparently thought there was no paper available for this. We took them at their word, and rushed two big truckloads of paper across Europe to Bucharest. We rode shotgun on that delivery. The Romanian Bibles are being printed."

Increased distribution of Scriptures, Dr. Collins believes, "can only indicate a hunger for the Word. We have found this true of all age groups, including young rebels, on campus and off."

IN THE WESTERN states, there were one million copies of the Bible or portions thereof distributed in 1959. The goal of three million was met for 1966, the society's 150th anniversary. Last year it zoomed over 13 million. "This year, 23 million," says Dr. Collins.

Asked whether the society runs into much opposition, he couldn't recall any worth mentioning, then with a smile amended: "Well, in our Western states office in Los Angeles, we have an open Bible in the window. Every morning there for a while, there was a squirt of tobacco juice on the window pane, directed toward the Bible. One morning it stopped, and that was it."

Dr. Collins would like to think that the unknown Bible-hater finally got to read some of the message in the window, judiciously changed to pertinent passages.

But in any case, the messily picturesque expression of opinion didn't stack up very weightily against the overwhelming trend of increased interest in Scriptures in the "secular city" of the 1960s.

KNOLLS GUEST AN OLD FRIEND

Rev. George P. Tinsley, retired after 60 years in the ministry which included pastorate at Eastside Christian Church, will be pulpit guest Sunday, 10 a.m. in Bixby Knolls Christian Church, 1240 E. Carson St., speaking on "Extension or Extinction." His theme: "Civilizations have arisen and have perished; nations have become rich and powerful, but they too have fallen. Individuals have become intellectuals and have lapsed into senility and perished. When then is the answer to extinction?"

les, we have an open Bible in the window. Every morning there for a while, there was a squirt of tobacco juice on the window pane, directed toward the Bible. One morning it stopped, and that was it."

Dr. Collins would like to think that the unknown Bible-hater finally got to read some of the message in the window, judiciously changed to pertinent passages.

Also on the Friday program in Long Beach will be Mrs. Gordon K. Anderson of Community Assistance to Homeless Youngsters, who will show a film about this work.

GRAHAM CRUSADE DIRECTOR TO PREACH IN CHURCH HERE

Rev. Harry B. Williams, crusade director for the forthcoming Billy Graham Crusade in Anaheim Stadium, will be guest speaker at the 9 and 10:30 a.m. services Sunday in First Baptist Church of Lakewood, 5336 Arbor Road.

Rev. Williams served most recently in Portland, Ore., where he directed preparations for the Pacific Northwest Crusade. In the London Crusade of 1966 he was in charge of closed-circuit TV arrangements to bring the meetings to additional thousands.

The church has designated Sunday as Billy Graham Day, and will show the Graham film "Century 21," filmed at the Seattle World Fair, in the evening service.

'Conservative and Liberal'

fied dichotomy is that it causes people to stop thinking and to get all "up-tight" over words.

A person who prides himself on being a "liberal" may actually hold some views that are considered "conservative," but he would be horrified if anyone would pin him with that label.

Likewise a "conservative" may hold certain "liberal" views, but he wouldn't want to be called one.

We have mistakenly thought that if a man is one, he couldn't possibly be the other. And this is too bad. I think we ought to stop using these oversimplified polarities, or else stop and explain what we mean whenever we say "liberal" or "conservative."

President Richard Nixon has been thought of as a conservative, yet he has come up with a new welfare program that is going to cost around $4 billion. This is additional and for the first year! He calls it the "new federalism." It will double the number of persons on the federal dole.

This sounds like the proposal of a man with a liberal motif. Yet some critics of the administration say $4 billion is not enough. They want even more of a welfare state, and to their way of thinking Nixon is still assuming a conservative stance.

THE CHURCH of today has in its membership both liberals and conservatives. Each group should recognize the positive values the other has to offer. "Liberals" must see the importance of conserving traditional faith and doctrine. "Conservatives" must see the value of change that reaches out in the spirit of Christ to serve people better.

We must not condemn one another by oversimplification and name-calling. In these days we cannot afford to allow this old dichotomy to use up our energies.

Whether we consider ourselves liberal or conservative, we should welcome the corrective the other can bring to us.

FROM THE PULPIT

"Believe" and "have faith" are modern creeds. But "believe what" and "have faith in what" are relevant questions. Faith that is centered in the wrong person, place or thing will not be honored by God nor beneficial to the person.

"Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ" is the creed of the Bible and the New Testament Church. Christ-centered faith is the stabilizing factor for your life and for eternity.

Any church that directs your faith toward the person of Christ is God's house to you. Any church that directs your faith from Christ and places it in a church, baptism, or the Ten Commandments is the instrument of Satan to keep you from Christ.

Salvation is in Him. Preservation is in Him. Strength is in Him. And hope is in Him.

'Tamed Religion,' the Irish, Pentecostals in Council

President Nixon has undermined the separation of church and state and is establishing a "tamed religion" by inviting representatives of all faiths to the East Room of the White House for services, charges famed Protestant theologian Reinhold Niebuhr in an article in the magazine "Christianity and Crisis" which has stirred comment.

Niebuhr uses the occasion to take a belt at Billy Graham, who is not exactly the darling of theologians.

"It is wonderful what a simple White House invitation will do to dull the critical faculties, thereby confirming the fears of the Founding Fathers," Niebuhr writes.

"Naturally, Mr. Graham was the first preacher in this modern version of the king's chapel and the king's court."

The reference is to the critical prophet Amos, who warned against succumbing to the blandishments of the "king's court and the king's chapel" in ancient Israel, and thundered "Take away from me the noise of your songs; to the melody of your harps I will not listen. But let justice roll down like waters, and righteousness like an overflowing stream."

Says Niebuhr: "The Nixon-Graham doctrine... seems indifferent to the radical distinction between conventional religion — which throws the aura of sanctity on contemporary public policy, whether morally inferior or outrageously unjust — and radical religious protest, which subjects all historical reality (including economic, social and racial injustices) to the 'Word of the Lord,' i.e., absolute standards of justice."

In the East Room's "quasi-conformity," he adds, "the apprehension of millions is evaded that our ABM policy may escalate, rather than conciliate, the nuclear balance of terror."

"This kind of criticism is massively outnumbered by expressions of approval for the White House services from all over the land."

But he argues that it may, it HAS been pointed out that the custom of presidential worship in the White House rather than in Washington churches has the obvious large advantage of security. Also, in fairness, it should be noted that the President has expressed personal reluctance to disturb worship services in a church with the inevitable fanfare of his arrival.

The White House has not reacted as yet to the Niebuhr criticism. As part of his Quaker heritage, Nixon is known to be sensitive on the question of separation of church and state. The opinion of some area clerics is that Niebuhr stretched the language a bit with that particular charge.

AMONG HIS many-sided interests, Dr. H. M. Eggleston, innovative pastor of the Senior Citizen's Church at Third and Linden, and author, is a student of Irish history. He will have something to say about the present strife in his Sunday sermon, "The Sad History of Ireland."

"My great grandfathers was a devout Irish Catholic," the Methodist cleric says. "so I know the story, and it did not start with Martin Luther!"

SPEAKING OF senior citizens, the foolishness of judging people's vitality by their statistical age was underscored last week at the Village Church of Westwood, where the pastor, Rev. Dr. A. J. Soldan, preached his retirement sermon. He was ordained in 1901, if you please, after graduation from Concordia Seminary. The grand old man is 93, which is 28 fruitful years more than that "retirement" age you've heard about.

THE WORLD Council of Churches moved into a new era when its central committee meeting at Canterbury, England, approved full membership for two colorful churches whose life styles could help change the tone and tempo of the ecumenical body.

One is the Church of Christ on Earth of Congo-Kinshasa, first African church founded without missionaries to join the Council. It was begun in 1921 by Simon Kimbangu, who created the greatest religious revival on the Continent. Though imprisoned by the Belgians for 30 years as an anti-colonialist, the movement, as with the early church, grew steadily under persecution, and now has three million members.

The second is the Evangelical Pentecostal Church "Brazil for Christ," with 1,100,000, spearhead of the Protestant boom in that country. Largely indigenous in its ministry, and with a Latin liveliness, the Pentecostals have proven to have a great appeal south of the border.

Rev. W. Henry Crane, secretary for Africa in the Council's Division of World Missions and Evangelism, said the African church could "help us recover again the understanding of the Gospel as an event to be celebrated in the broadest sense of that term."

He added, bring into the ecumenical mainstream "the freshness of a church that still has about it the character of a movement consciously identified with salvation history because of the similarity of its own history with the Bible story."

"For them the liturgy is still very much the work of the people, not something done for them by professionals."

Rev. Dr. Walter J. Helgenweiger, secretary for evangelism, saw the admission of the Brazil Pentecostal church as "a strong contribution to evangelism."

They will bring a new style of communication into the Council he added. "Instead of giving a speech, they sing a song, instead of making a statement, they give a testimony. We will have to learn to tie into their oral network of communication, because theirs is an oral culture."

THE SAME World Council meeting issued a statement on the Middle East which said peace was not possible until "the legitimate rights" to exist of both Jews and Palestinians were respected. The Council did strike a new note in stating that in supporting the establishment of the State of Israel without protecting the rights of Palestinians, injustice has been done to Palestinian Arabs by the great powers which should be redressed.

The Nesseth-Hopson party, an evangelistic group of two ministers and their wives who have combined musical abilities and preaching in crusades across the country, will hold a revival Friday through Sept. 14 in Westside Church of the Nazarene, 2901 Santa Fe Ave.

Bible Institute Now in Whittier

The Layman's Bible Institute of Southern California, a school dedicated to "teaching the Bible as the answer for today's needs" will relocate from Long Beach to Whittier.

Dr. William W. Orr, president, says Community Brethren Church of Whittier, 11000 W. Washington Blvd. be reached in 30 minutes from any portion of Los Angeles County.

A new curriculum is being offered to people from all churches. There will be upwards of 20 different Bible related courses, including one on "Evolution and the Bible," "People and Customs of the Holy Land," "The First Ten Chapters of Genesis," "How to Sing," and "Chorus Choir," as well as 10 different classes on individual books of the Bible.

CONFIDENT LIVING

Youngsters Seek Wrong 'Power'

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

I seriously doubt that there's anything new in this thing they call the "generation gap." Maybe it's because I've got a fairly good memory. Believe it or not, I was a young sprout once upon a time. And I had a fairly dim opinion of the way the older generation was running the show. I was impatient too. I used to think how wonderful it would be if you didn't automatically have to work your way up the ladder of success. If they just gave you what you knew you deserved. Because after all, we young people were so all-fired bright and talented and worth while.

Of course, there are differences between my generation and this young generation that's steaming up the windows these days. I think they're a harder lot. And it could be they're a little brighter than we were, though the way they act sometimes makes me doubt their mental superiority. But they take themselves far more seriously than we did. Makes you wonder if they haven't lost some of their sense of humor.

EVERY GENERATION has its own set of magic words that they think is going to change the whole world. It's almost as though they invented them. Now there's one word I hear bandied about by young people and I seriously question whether they understand what that word means. It's the magic word today: "power." Power will solve all the problems. Young people want power to take over the universities, run business and the government. And they want power so that they can break all the old tiresome rules with impunity.

There's an idea that power is something far off, almost unreachable, that other people possess it and they don't. Well, nothing could be further from the truth. We all possess a frightening degree of power. Only thing is that few of us are aware of this treasure we have. For lack of a better term, let's call it mind power.

Mind power is a thousand times more powerful than atomic power. Sure, atomic power could blow this planet of ours to smithereens, but what produced atomic power? Why, mind power, of course. And if humanity would get hold of this other power, this mind power, it could make atomic power look pale. Directed mind power could solve all of our problems of war and poverty and race. And when I say solve these problems, I mean solve them correctly. Not in a superficial way, like allocating a billion dollars here and another billion there. But solve them permanently, so that there would be no room left for in the power of one good. We all have mind power. But how many of us choose to exercise it?

Real power is not in the rod, the gun, the mob. It is in the power of one good mind thinking wisely and logically about the best way to get something done. Seizing a library will not basically change what's wrong with a university or a college. Burning draft board records will not end a war. But mind power, fully and wholeheartedly applied to a problem, will do it every time and constructively too.

SOME OF our young people have already proved

Tells Christian Scientists Some 'Unrest' Is Good

Some forms of campus unrest should be stirred up and supported, Christian Science young people were told Friday in Boston by Edwin D. Canham, editor of the Christian Science Monitor.

Some 6,000 Christian Science students from colleges and universities in 31 countries wound up a three-day meeting in the historic Mother Church, First of Boston, which considered the theme: "Building in a Revolutionary Period."

"The exposure of evil and the application of regenerative measures are forms of unrest which we should certainly support," Canham said.

Among those present from Christian Science organizations in Long Beach's two colleges were Clifford McElrea, Tim Spore, Mark Baird, Lawrence McElrea, Carol Hony, Karen Brown, Judy Wilshire, Sue Priestley, Jeanne Capeland, Joe Boyer, Ron Clark and Kay Capeland.

what mind power can do. You just have to look at the record of VISTA and the Peace Corps. You just have to read about those wonderful young people who have organized painting crews to go in and clean up sub-zero housing and have helped form play groups for children whose world has never been beyond their own city block.

That's what power is, and what power can do. Mind power!

World Council Sends Sympathy on Mosque Fire

Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, general secretary of the World Council of Churches, this week wired a message of "sympathy and prayers" to the Mufti of Jerusalem, Sa'ad Eddine El Alami, on the disaster of the Al-Aksa Mosque in Jerusalem.

Dr. Blake, who visited the Mufti in Jerusalem during his tour of the Middle East in March, said:

"Deeply concerned and grieved at disaster to your Holy Place. Recalling our warm fraternal conversation when in Jerusalem assure you of sympathy and prayers of World Council of Churches. Our Central Committee meeting at Canterbury last week before that serious consideration be given by the appropriate department of the World Council of Churches to initiating discussions with Christians, Jews and Moslems as to the guardianship of the Holy Places, the status of Jerusalem and the people of the city. I hold myself at disposal of yourself and people of the city."

4,000 Trained for Post-Crusade Work

Recruitment and training of 4,000 Bible discussion leaders who will serve following the Southern California Billy Graham Crusade to be held in Anaheim Stadium Sept. 26 to Oct. 5 is nearing completion.

"They will help lead Bible discussion groups following the Crusade, in their own churches, with those who came forward to accept Christ at Graham's invitation."

'Tamed Religion,' the Irish, Pentecostals in Council

President Nixon has undetermined the separation of church and state and is establishing a "tamed religion" by inviting representatives of all faiths to the East Room of the White House for services, charges famed Protestant theologian Reinhold Niebuhr in an article in the magazine "Christianity and Crisis" which has stirred comment.

Niebuhr uses the occasion to take a belt at Billy Graham, who is not exactly the darling of theologians.

"It is wonderful what a simple White House invitation will do to dull the critical faculties, thereby confirming the fears of the Founding Fathers," Niebuhr writes.

"Naturally, Mr. Graham was the first preacher in this modern version of the king's chapel and the king's court."

The reference is to the critical prophet Amos, who warned against succumbing to the blandishments of the "king's court and the king's chapel" in ancient Israel, and thundered "Take away from me the noise of your songs; to the melody of your harps I will not listen. But let justice roll down like waters, and righteousness like an overflowing stream."

Says Niebuhr: "The Nixon-Graham doctrine seems indifferent to the radical distinction between conventional religion which throws the aura of sanctity on contemporary public policy, whether morally inferior or outrageously unjust — and radical religiosity, which subjects all historical reality (including economic, social and racial injustice) to the 'Word of the Lord,' i.e., absolute standards of justice."

In the East Room's "quasi-conformity," he adds, "the apprehension of millions is evaded that our ABM policy may escalate, rather than conciliate, the nuclear balance of terror."

This kind of criticism is massively outnumbered by expressions of approval for the White House services from all over the land.

But he that argument as it may, it HAS been pointed out that the custom of presidential worship in the White House rather than in Washington churches has the obvious large advantage of security. Also, in fairness, it should be noted that the President has expressed personal reluctance to disturb worship services in a church with the inevitable fanfare of his arrival.

The White House has not reacted as yet to the Niebuhr criticism. As part of his Quaker heritage, Nixon is known to be sensitive on the question of separation of church and state. The opinion of some area clerics is that Niebuhr stretched the language a bit with that particular charge.

AMONG HIS many-sided interests, Dr. H. M. Eagleston, innovative pastor of the Senior Citizen's Church at Third and Linden, and author, is a student of Irish history. He will have something to say about the present strife in his Sunday sermon, "The Sad History of Ireland."

"My great grandsire was a devout Irish Catholic," the Methodist cleric says, "so I know the story, and it did not start with Martin Luther!"

SPEAKING OF senior citizens, the foolishness of judging peoples' vitality by their statistical age was underscored last week at the Village Church of Westwood, where the pastor, Rev. Dr. A. J. Soldan, preached his retirement sermon. He was ordained in 1901. If you please, after graduation from Concordia Seminary. The grand old man is 93, which is 28 fruitful years more than that "retirement" age you've heard about.

THE WORLD Council of Churches moved into a new era when its central committee meeting at Canterbury, England, approved full membership for two colorful churches whose life styles could help change the tone and tempo of the ecumenical body. One is the Church of Christ on Earth, of Congo-Kinshasa, first African church founded without missionaries to join the Council. It was begun in 1921 by Simon Kimbangu, who created the greatest religious revival on the Continent. Though imprisoned by the Belgians for 30 years as an anti-colonialist, the movement, as with the early church, grew steadily under persecution, and now has three million members.

4,000 Trained for Post-Crusade Work Recruitment and training of 4,000 Bible discussion leaders who will serve following the Southern California Billy Graham Crusade to be held in Anaheim Stadium, Sept. 26 to Oct. 5 is nearing completion. They will help lead Bible discussion groups following the Crusade, in their own churches, with those who came forward to accept Christ at Graham's invitation.

The second is the Evangelical Pentecostal Church "Brazil for Christ," with 1,000,000, spearhead of the Protestant boom in that country. Largely indigenous in its ministry, and with a Latin liveliness, the Pentecostals have proven to have a great appeal south of the border.

Rev. W. Henry Crane, secretary for Africa in the Council's Division of World Missions and Evangelism, said the African church could "help us recover again the understanding of the Gospel as an event to be celebrated in the broadest sense of that term." It will, he added, bring into the ecumenical mainstream "the freshness of a church that still has about it the character of a movement consciously identified with salvation history because of the similarity of its own history with the Bible story."

"For them the liturgy is still very much the work of the people, not something done for them by professionals."

Rev. Dr. Walter J. Heltenweiger, secretary for evangelism, saw the admission of the Brazil pentecostal church as "a strong contribution to evangelism."

"They will bring a new style of communication into the Council he added. 'Instead of giving a speech, they sing a song, instead of making a statement, they give a testimony. We will have to learn to tie into their oral network of communication, because theirs is an oral culture.'"

THE SAME World Council meeting issued a statement on the Middle East which said peace was not possible until "the legitimate rights" to exist of both Jews and Palestinians were respected. The Council did strike a new note in stating that in supporting the establishment of the State of Israel without protecting the rights of Palestinians, injustice has been done to Palestinian Arabs by the great powers which should be redressed."

The Continental Singers and Orchestra, a touring Southland group of young people who have appeared in Europe, made several records, and took part in the Billy Graham London Crusade, will make two local appearances, Sunday, 11 a.m. in Boulevard Assembly of God, 1551 Wilmington Blvd, Wilmington, and Sunday, 7:30 p.m. in First Baptist of Los Alamitos, 4000 Green St. . . . The Nesseth-Hopson party, an evangelistic group of two ministers and their wives who have combined musical abilities and preaching in crusades across the country, will hold a revival Friday through Sept. 14 in Westside Church of the Nazarene, 2901 Santa Fe Ave.

Bible Institute Now in Whittier

The Layman's Bible Institute of Southern California, a school dedicated to "teaching the Bible as the answer for today's needs" will relocate from Long Beach to Whittier.

Dr. William W. Orr, president, says Community Brethren Church of Whittier, 11000 W. Washington Blvd. be reached in 30 minutes from any portion of Los Angeles County.

A new curriculum is being offered to people from all churches. There will be upwards of 20 different Bible related courses, including one on "Evolution and the Bible," "People and Customs of the Holy Land," "The First Ten Chapters of Genesis," "How to Sing," and "Chorus Choir," as well as 10 different classes on individual books of the Bible.

CONFIDENT LIVING

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

I seriously doubt that there's anything new in this thing they call the "generation gap." Maybe it's because I've got a fairly good memory. Believe it or not, I was a young sprout once upon a time. And I had a fairly dim opinion of the way the older generation was running the show. I was impatient too. I used to think how wonderful it would be if you didn't automatically have to work your way up the ladder of success. If they just gave you what you knew you deserved. Because after all, we young people were so all-fired bright and talented and worthy while.

Of course, there are differences between my generation and this young generation that's steaming up the windows these days. I think they're a harder lot. And it could be they're a little brighter than we were, though the way they act sometimes makes me doubt their mental superiority. But they take themselves far more seriously than we did. Makes you wonder if they haven't lost some of their sense of humor.

EVERY GENERATION has its own set of magic words that they think is going to change the whole world. It's almost as though they invented them. Now there's one word I hear bandied about by young people and I seriously question whether they understand what that word means. It's the magic word today: "power." Power will solve all the problems. Young people want power to take over the universities, run business and the government. And they want power so that they can break all the old tiresome rules with impunity. There's an idea that power is something far off, almost unreachable, that old or people possess it and they don't. Well, nothing could be further from the truth. We all possess a frightening degree of power. Only thing is that few of us are aware of this treasure we have. For lack of a better term, let's call it mind power.

Mind power is a thousand times more powerful than atomic power. Sure, atomic power could blow this planet of ours to smithereens, but what produced atomic power? Why, mind power, of course. And if humanity would get hold of this other power, this mind power, it could make atomic power look pale. Directed mind power could solve all of our problems of war and poverty and race. And when I say solve these problems, I mean solve them correctly. Not in a superficial way, like allocating a billion dollars here and another billion there. But solve them permanently, so that there would be no room left for in the power of one god. We all have mind power. But how many of us choose to exercise it?

Real power is not in the rod, the gun, the mob. It is in the power of one good mind thinking wisely and logically about the best way to get something done. Seizing a library will not basically change what's wrong with a university or a college. Burning draft board records will not end a war. But mind power, fully and wholeheartedly applied to a problem, will do it every time and constructively too.

SOME of our young people have already proved

Tells Christian Scientists Some 'Unrest' Is Good

Some forms of campus unrest should be stirred up and supported, Christian Science young people were told Friday in Boston by Edwin D. Canham, editor of the Christian Science Monitor.

Some 6,000 Christian Science students from colleges and universities in 31 countries wound up a three-day meeting in the historic Mother Church, First of Boston, which considered the theme: "Building in a Revolutionary Period."

"The exposure of evil and the application of regenerative measures are forms of unrest which we should certainly support," Canham said.

Among those present from Christian Science organizations in Long Beach's two colleges were Clifford McKie, Tim Spore, Mark Baird, Lawrence McKie, Carol Hony, Karen Brown, Judy Wilshire, Sue Priestly, Jeanne Copeland, Joe Boyer, Ron Clark and Kay Copeland.

what mind power can do. You just have to look at the record of VISTA and the Peace Corps. You just have to read about those wonderful young people who have organized painting crews to go in and clean up sub-zero housing and have helped form play groups for children whose world has never been beyond their own city block.

That's what power is, and what power can do. Mind power!

World Council Sends Sympathy on Mosque Fire

Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, general secretary of the World Council of Churches, this week wired a message of "sympathy and prayers" to the Mufti of Jerusalem, Sa'ad Eddine El Alami, on the disaster of the Al-Aksa Mosque in Jerusalem.

Dr. Blake, who visited the Mufti in Jerusalem during his tour of the Middle East in March, said:

"Deeply concerned and grieved at disaster to your Holy Place. Recalling our warm fraternal conversation when in Jerusalem assure you of sympathy and prayers of World Council of Churches. Our Central Committee meeting at Canterbury last week before disaster recommended that serious consideration be given by the appropriate department of the World Council of Churches to initiating discussions with Christians, Jews and Moslems as to the guardianship of the Holy Places, and the status of Jerusalem and the people of the city. I hold myself at disposal of yourself and people of the city."

4,000 Trained for Post-Crusade Work

Recruitment and training of 4,000 Bible discussion leaders who will serve following the Southern California Billy Graham Crusade to be held in Anaheim Stadium, Sept. 26 to Oct. 5 is nearing completion. They will help lead Bible discussion groups following the Crusade, in their own churches, with those who came forward to accept Christ at Graham's invitation.

In keeping with our usual custom, we occasionally turn the column over to readers who agree, or disagree, with some of the items read here.

From Henry W. Dunn, Long Beach:

"You say that you don't like David Frost's show, but on Monday night you looked at the entire show in order to hear Al Capp."

"You knew Al Capp was on the show, but I didn't."

"I didn't know Al Capp was on because you didn't tell me."

"Sometimes, but not often, I would like to hear some of the people he has on his show, but you won't tell me who is on."

"Why not?"

"You give information about other programs, but not about David Frost."

"Why not?"

(Thanks for calling this to our attention. I got the information about the Frost Show guests from the Aug. 24 issue of Televes, but note that the daily paper log listing did not carry the guests. Our Keeper of the Logs explains that there was no confirmation of the guests, and the guest names were dropped because of uncertainty about the accuracy. There has been a communications gap with Ch. 11 which the station now promises it will correct).

FROM ISABEL HOUSLEY, Long Beach:

"I wanted to say I heartily agree with your criticism of David Frost. 'Being British myself, I was looking forward to his show and was very disappointed in his amateurish way of handling it.'"

"I find his effusiveness especially irritating — 'Marvelous! Incredible! Fantastic! Such a joy to have you on the show.'"

"I used to enjoy Merv Griffin, but 11:30 p.m. is too late for 70 year olds. (Who does watch them when most workers rise so early?)"

"My favorite is Dick Cavett, who in my opinion is better than any of them — bright, witty, and only two or three guests which is ample; interviews them well. He is better informed in my opinion. Hope they won't take him off the air, but I see so little comment on him, they probably will."

(I'm afraid you're right about Cavett. His last show is scheduled for Sept. 19. He does have a contract with ABC-TV, however, so he'll probably be showing up on the network in some role next season).

KCET (Ch. 28), the area education TV station, has announced some programming plans for fall.

Among features planned are the American premiere of Janacek's opera "From the House of the Dead," based on Dostoevsky's diary of life in a prison camp; closeups of singer Peggy Lee and conductor Leopold Stokowski; a series of film essays by writer William F. Buckley; a new play by Paul Foster, "Tribes."

Other programs are: Story Theater, starring Mildred Dunnock, Alvin

ROOKIE OF YEAR?

By GORDON VERRELL
Staff Writer

They talk of the Laboys and the Hisles and the Hebbers as the leading candidates in the National League's rookie of the year derby.

But at the Dodger Stadium they talk only of Ted Sizemore, the sparky second baseman who might be the best of the lot.

He's been thrust into more come-through situations than any of the other leading rookie candidates and more often than not he's done his part to the letter.

Friday night he came through again, driving in the tying run in an uphill tussle with Philadelphia. The Dodgers managed to hang on and win, 6-5 and remain two games behind San Francisco in the sizzling traffic jam known as the Wild West.

For seven innings it appeared the Dodgers had handed the Phils a gift, committing four errors — three of them by Maury Wills — that contributed to a three-run fourth round.

Philadelphia still led, 4-2, entering the eighth inning. But a couple of walks served by Woody Fryman and a double by Jim LeFebvre cut the deficit to a single run and sent Fryman to the bench.

catcher to shortstop to second base without a hitch, was the first to face Turk Farrell, the onetime Dodger.

Teddy lined the first pitch to centerfield and,

quick as that, the game was tied.

Controversial Richie Alton, answering some of the many boos, slammed Ray Lamb's first pitch for a homer in the ninth to slice the Dodgers' lead to 6-5. And Larry Hise, trying to pick up some stock of his own in the rookie battle, sent Willie Crawford to the fence in right for the final out.

"I can't explain the feeling," remarked Sizemore when asked about his big poke in the payoff eighth inning. "It's great just to play. But to come up in a situation like that — and to come through — well, that's what we're all playing for."

"When I was at Tri-Cities we won the pennant," Ted recalled. "And in 1967 at Albuquerque he won it and again last year at Spokane we won the flag."

"But this race this year... well, I don't think any of us have seen anything quite like it."

It was a bit of a slump in the fourth inning that provided the Phillies with their three-run round. Two of Wills' three miscues and three singles pushed them across.

"Yeah, I've made that (Continued Page B-2, Col. 1)

Rams One-Point Favorites in Charger Rubber Match

By AL LARSON
Staff Writer

SAN DIEGO — What began as a piece-meal scrimmage four weeks ago blossoms into a full-scale war tonight when the Rams square off with the Chargers.

Since losing to Baltimore 26-6 in their opener, the Chargers have posted home 10-7 wins over New Orleans and Oakland and last week tied Cleveland 19-19, which a week earlier defeated the Rams 10-3.

Despite dropping back-to-back decisions to the Browns and Kansas City, the Rams are one-point favorites tonight in the rubber match of their inter-league series which figures to lure a crowd of 50,000.

LARSON'S LINE:
Rams 21, Chargers 20

The Rams won in 1967, 50-7, then were sent reeling home, 35-13, last year.

However, oddsmakers should be a little nervous. For one thing, the Rams have been favored by a collective 12 points in the last two games and have lost by a collective 33.

For another, San Diego is a very emotional team that is capable of playing like the best or the worst in the league.

Coach George Allen juggled his defensive line Friday and announced Coy Bacon will open at right tackle and Dave Cahill at right end in place of the injured Gregg Schumacher. Bacon steps in for Diron Talbert who will be used as a swing man at tackle or end.

Roger Brown, who has missed all three exhibition games with a broken right hand, will be rushed into action to help contain the Chargers' attack. A specially constructed cast will allow Roger to spell Bacon.

Willie Daniel will start in place of Clancy Williams, whose suspension has not been lifted, and Ron Smith is expected to see some duty at right cornerback in place of Jimmy Nettles. When Smith moves to the corner to track down Lance Alworth and Gary Garrison, Richie Petitbon will be rushed in at strong safety to shadow San Diego's hulking tight ends Jacques

Angels Sweep Orioles, Raise Streak to Six

By DON MERRY

BALTIMORE — The stranger-than-fiction team rumbled into Baltimore's Memorial Stadium Friday night and raised a few more eyebrows and left a few more mouths agape.

To begin with, they should have tiptoed in. A team with a 53-71 record does not want its presence announced, even if it is on a four-game winning streak. And it was to be expected that they would stagger out because they were up against the most awesome team in the American League.

But the Angels proceeded to stick out their chests and laughed right in Earl Weaver's face as they swept a two-night double.

header, 6-2 and 2-1. They did it with 13 hits and the pitching of Andy Messersmith and Ken Tatum in the first game and they did it with five hits, some alert and impressive fielding and the pitching of Jim McGlothlin in the second game.

And when it was over the form book was reduced to ashes. The Angels have now captured six in a row (their longest streak since July of 1967) and 11 of their last 13 and the opposition no longer feels any pangs of sympathy for them. A group that was once referred to as "that funny little team" is playing inspired baseball.

No team knows it better than the Baltimore Orioles. The Angels have now given the Birds a bath on four successive occasions and have won six of 10 meetings this year. They are the only team in the American League to hold an advantage over the runaway leaders in the East.

"That's the history of this team," said Jim Fregosi. "We always play better against a top team. I sure know that I'm psyched up for this series."

The rest of the club was right in step Friday. Messersmith, making his first start in nine days after suffering a bruised shoulder, hurled five-hit ball for eight innings in the opener before Lefty Phillips handed the ball to Tatum for the fourth consecutive game. The young reliever responded with his fourth save in a row.

All six Angel runs in the first game came with two out — a result of hits they refer to as the "clutch" variety and the type that was missing earlier in the year. Bubba Morton erased a 1-0 Baltimore lead in the sixth inning with a two-run double and Sandy Alomar

Five-Year Pact Lures Barry Into NBA Again

Combined News Service.

Rick Barry returned to the San Francisco Warriors and the National Basketball Assn. Friday, leaving the American Basketball Assn. where he became the superstar it needed to stay alive two years ago.

At his attorney's office in Los Angeles Barry announced that he has agreed to a five-year contract with the Warriors, his old team, declining to stay with the Oakland Oaks who are moving to Washington under new ownership.

Warrior owner Franklin Mieuli was present and told newsmen he could not comment on the amount of money Barry will get.

"Rick is an excellent player and he's getting an excellent salary," said the happy Mieuli.

Barry commented, "I'm doing what I think is best for myself and my family. I like the Bay Area and I don't want to leave."

Mieuli said agreement had been reached and "it was just a matter of putting it in writing" but no contract was signed yet because of legal technicalities.

Attorney Bob Ruben asked indulgence about details of the contract, admitting that legal ramifications are expected. Such court action is expected from Earl Foreman, the Washington businessman who has purchased the Oaks for the move to the nation's capital.

In Washington, D.C., Foreman said, "If Barry has breached his contract with the Oaks, we will avail ourselves to the full extent of our legal remedies and rights."

Barry reportedly had an agreement with the Oaks that did not require him to move if the team left the Oakland area. Foreman has said that this is not so and that when he bought the Oaks, he also bought Barry.

In Oakland, a show cause hearing was set for next Thursday by an Alameda County Superior Court judge in a suit by a television station against their pending move to Washington, D.C.

Judge Lyle E. Cook, after a meeting in chambers, set the hearing but said he could not issue a restraining order preventing the Oaks from leaving Oakland unless the station, KEMO, put up $2 million.

The station is attempting to keep the Oaks from moving to Washington because it has a five-year contract to televise Oaks' games.

ROOKIE OF YEAR?

By GORDON VERRELL
Staff Writer

They talk of the Labors and the Hises and the Hebers as the leading candidates in the National League's rookie of the year derby.

But at the Dodger Stadium they talk only of Ted Sizemore, the sparky second baseman who might be the best of the lot.

He's been thrust into more come-through situations than any of the other leading rookie candidates and more often than not he's done his part to the letter.

Friday night he came through again, driving in the tying run in an uphill tussle with Philadelphia. The Dodgers managed to hang on and win, 6-5 and remain two games behind San Francisco in the sizzling traffic jam known as the Wild West.

For seven innings it appeared the Dodgers had handed the Phils a gift, committing four errors — three of them by Maury Wills — that contributed to a three-run fourth round.

Philadelphia still led, 4-2, entering the eighth inning. But a couple of walks served by Woody Fryman and a double by Jim LeFebvre cut the deficit to a single run and sent Fryman to the bench.

Sizemore, the kid who made the transition from catcher to shortstop to second base without a hitch, was the first to face Turk Farrell, the onetime Dodger.

Teddy lined the first pitch to centerfield and,

quick as that, the game was tied.

Tom Haller got home the go-ahead run with a single to right and then Len Gabrielson hit a sacrifice fly to score Sizemore with what turned out to be the winning run.

Controversial Richie Allen, answering some of the many boos, slammed Ray Lamb's first pitch for a homer in the ninth to slice the Dodgers' lead to 6-5. And Larry Hise, trying to pick up some stock of his own in the rookie battle, sent Willie Crawford to the fence in right for the final out.

"I can't explain the feeling," remarked Sizemore when asked about his big poke in the payoff eighth inning. "It's great just to play. But to come up in a situation like that — and to come through — well, that's what we're all playing for."

It's a murderous pennant struggle and Sizemore's just a rookie. But he's keeping pace fine. In fact, he's a veteran of the stretch run.

"When I was at Tri-Cities we won the pennant," Ted recalled. "And in 1967 at Albuquerque he won it and again last year at Spokane we won the flag."

"But this race this year ... well, I don't think any of us have seen anything quite like it."

It was a bit of a slump in the fourth inning that provided the Phillies with their three-run round. Two of Wills' three miscues and three singles pushed them across.

"Yeah, I've made that. (Continued Page B-2, Col. 1)

Rams One-Point Favorites in Charger Rubber Match

By AL LARSON
Staff Writer

SAN DIEGO — What began as a piece-meal scrimmage four weeks ago blossoms into a full-scale war tonight when the Rams square off with the Chargers.

Since losing to Baltimore 26-6 in their opener, the Chargers have posted home 10-7 wins over New Orleans and Oakland and last week tied Cleveland 19-19, which a week earlier defeated the Rams 10-3.

Despite dropping back-to-back decisions to the Browns and Kansas City, the Rams are one-point favorites tonight in the rubber match of their inter-league series which figures to lure a crowd of 50,000.

LARSON'S LINE:

Rams 21, Chargers 20

The Rams won in 1967, 50-7, then were sent reeling home, 35-13, last year.

However, oddsmakers should be a little nervous. For one thing, the Rams have been favored by a collective 12 points in the last two games and have lost by a collective 35.

For another, San Diego is a very emotional team that is capable of playing like the best or the worst in the league.

Coach George Allen juggled his defensive line Friday and announced Coy Bacon will open at right tackle and Dave Cahill at right end in place of the injured Gregg Schumacher. Bacon steps in for Diron Talbot who will be used as a swing man at tackle or end.

Roger Brown, who has missed all three exhibition games with a broken right hand, will be rushed into action to help contain the Chargers' attack. A specially constructed cast will allow Roger to spell Bacon.

Willie Daniel will start in place of Clancy Williams, whose suspension has not been lifted, and Ron Smith is expected to see some duty at right cornerback in place of Jimmy Nettles. When Smith moves to the corner to track down Lance Alworth and Gary Garrison, Richie Petitbon will be rushed in at strong safety to shadow San Diego's hulking tight ends Jacques

ATLANTA (AP) — Jim Hickman's leadoff home run in the seventh inning gave the Chicago Cubs a 2-1 victory over Atlanta Friday night and snapped the Braves' five-game winning streak.

The loss dampened the Braves' bid for the National League's West Division lead, although they pulled off their first triple play since moving to Atlanta in 1966.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Juan Marichal scattered four hits and got a three-run homer from Bobby Bonds Friday night as the San Francisco Giants registered their ninth consecutive victory, a 5-0 triumph over the New York Mets.

The win raised San Francisco's lead over Atlanta and Cincinnati to 1½ games in the National League West.

Marichal, in upping his record 16-9, allowed only two runners as far as second base and faced only 31 batters — four over the minimum — with a six-strikeout, one-walk performance.

The Dominican right-hander, now 22-3 lifetime against the Mets, was touched for two singles by Bob Pfeil. Ron Swoboda and Cleon Jones got the other New York safeties.

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Rookie Al Santorini fired a brilliant two-hitter Friday night, pitching San Diego to a 3-0 victory over Montreal, ending a six-game losing streak for the Padres.

The only hits off Santorini were Ty Cline's infield single in the third and a two-out single in the ninth by Coco Laboy.

and Jay Johnstone singled home runs in the seventh. After Frank Robinson narrowed the deficit to 4-3 with his second RBI of the night in the eighth for Baltimore, Fregosi came right back and lined a two-out single to chase in two more for the Angels in the ninth.

The nightcap was more dramatic. McGlothlin, who snapped a personal eight-game losing skid last Sunday, forgot his lucky rabbit's foot but didn't need it anyway. He went the route with an eight-hitter and refused to buckle when the Orioles applied pressure in the sixth, seventh and eighth innings.

The runs that won it were driven in by Roger Repox, a replacement in left field for Rick Reichardt. Rick played the opener and then reported a headache and said his one remaining kidney was beginning to act up. A doctor was called between games to check his blood pressure. He discovered nothing serious and Reichardt remained on the Angel bench during the second game.

Two-Year-Olds Should Chase Nutter Brother in Los Ninos

By DAVE DANIEL

Two-year-olds, headed by Nutter Brother, take the spotlight at Los Alamitos tonight when the track offers the $12,000 Los Ninos Purse to determine the male champion of the younger set.

Nutter Brother, a powerful son of Go Man Go, has won five of seven starts this year and has a racing record strongly resembling that of 1968 Los Ninos winner—Kaweah Bar.

The latter went on to win

horse-of-the-year honors after picking up five wins in his first seven starts.

The only two losses that Kaweah Bar suffered as a 2-year-old were big ones—the Bay Meadows Futurity and the Los Alamitos Kindergarten Stakes.

Those are the same two races which Nutter Brother has lost in duplicating a five-for-seven performance. He finished second both times.

Still, Nutter Brother figures to get back on the winning trail tonight over seven rivals in the 350-yard event. He posted a 17.7 clocking at the track in winning a heat of the Kindergarten Trials.

All of his opposition has won at least one race at Los Alamitos with the exception of Rebel Charlie, who has baffled experts in every outing at the track this year.

He is considered the top horse in Larry Kieve's stable. Kieve is the young Garden Grove resident who is leading the trainer standings in this, his first year, as a trainer. Rebel Charlie has yet to reach the winner's circle at Los Alamitos, although he picked up wins in two outings at Bay Meadows.

The rest of the field is made up of Red Chigger Bar, Past Carin, Mollah Rocket, Count Claran, Kansas Jet and Rue Peree.

Three colts are passing up the Los Ninos to race in the $40,000 Juvenile next Saturday night. They are Rica's Gold, Lassie's Go Man and Jaguar Rocket.

Tab Dike Derby Favorite

Associated Press

The $100,000 American Derby at Chicago's Arlington Park and the battle of Shuvee and Gallant Bloom for 3-year-old filly honors at New York's Belmont Park highlights today's thoroughbred racing program.

Arlington has switched to night racing in an effort to boost business but the Derby, a 1 1/2-mile affair for 3-year-olds, will be run off in daylight as the first race on the program.

Dike, winner of the Wood Memorial and third in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, has top weight of 126 pounds including jockey Willie Shoemaker. Jay Ray, winner of six races this year including the $100,000-added California Derby last April, shares second high weight of 119 pounds with Night Invader, winner of the $100,000-added Washington Park Handicap.

The other entries in the invitational contest, include Barely Once and Strong Stomach at 115, Fast Hillarious 114, Dondougold, Famed Prince, Twogundam 113, and Mr. Power 112.

Gallant Bloom, unbeaten in five races this year, and Shuvee, winner of the triple crown for fillies, probably will set the 3-year-old championship for fillies in the $53,800 Gazelle Handicap that drew only five entries at Belmont Park.

Gallant Bloom and Shuvee each will carry 127 pounds for the 1 1/8 mile contest. Pit Bunnay, 4-1, gets 116 pounds with Secret Verdict, 30-1, at 114 and Dihela, 20-1, at 111.

Other feature races on the national program Saturday include the $30,000 Kelly-Olympic Handicap at Atlantic City, the $25,000 Frontier Handicap at Detroit, and the $20,000 Keene Handicap at Rockingham Park.

Fort Marcy, 123, has high weight in the field of 111 for the 1 1/8 mile turf Kelly-Olympic. Leading contenders include Hawaii, 124, Ruffled Feathers, 117, and Spire, 116.

STILL LEADS AMATEUR

Melnik Maintains 3-Stroke Lead in U.S. Amateur

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Steve Melnyk, 235-pound University of Florida golfer, scrambled to a two-over-par 34-39-73 with three bogeys and a double bogey on the back nine, but maintained his three-stroke lead after 54 holes Friday in the 69th U.S. Amateur Golf Championship.

The 21-year-old Melnyk appeared ready to run away from the field after a two-under-par front nine sent him six strokes ahead, but he faltered coming home, at one point slipping to a one stroke advantage.

For the second successive day, he birdied the 18th to pad his margin.

Allen Miller, the University of Georgia student who was at a disadvantage when his putter was stolen overnight, is right where he started the day, three strokes back, at 219 after a 37-36-73.

Miller had company as Marvin Vinnie Giles, runner-up in this tournament the past two years, shot a 36-36-72 to tie for second place. Miller and Giles were six strokes over par for 54 holes, while Melnyk was three strokes over regulation for the 36-35-71 Oakmont Country Club course.

A disappointed Melnyk said that when he made the turn Friday leading by six strokes, "I felt like I had the tournament won. That's why I played so badly the next five holes. I relaxed and that's what you can't do on this course."

The husky 6-foot-1 Melnyk, an industrial management major at Florida, said he looked at the scoreboard "and I just caked walked. I'm real disappointed."

Miller refused to use his hay fever or the stolen putter as an alibi.

"I slept good and I felt good all day," he said. "About the putter, 'It didn't hurt anything.'"

Giles, only the third player in 64 years to finish runner-up two years in a row, was discouraged by his one-over-par 72, because he felt he played good golf.

"When you play a round like I played today and come up one over par, you got to be discouraged," lamented the recent Virginia law school graduate.

The 26-year-old Giles said of today's final round of 18 holes: "To win I've got to make a couple of long putts — over 15 feet. 'I'm optimistic that in a four-day period I'm going to have one good sub-par day.'"

Melnik and Miller, playing together in the same twosome, drew the big gallery, while Giles walked almost alone until he shot his way into contention on the back nine, or Melnyk almost shot himself out of the lead.

Miss Tops Del Mar Debutante

DEL MAR — Minstrel Miss, the top-ranked 2-year-old filly in training in the west, will head a 12-horse field in the $65,225 Del Mar Debutante here today.

The winner of the six-furlong event will earn $43,025 as well as the championship of the local juvenile filly division, and the purse, enriched by four supplementary nominations, ranks as the richest in the 19-year history of the Debutante, one of the most coveted races of its kind in California.

Topping the opposition for the speedy Minstrel Miss are Regal Wine, Atomic Wings, Last Hostess and Thorny Blue.

The field is completed by Seas N Fields, Croshine, Bold Broad, Court Gem, Tales To Tell, Flashing Jet and Chris C. All starters will carry 113 pounds.

Majestic Prince, hero of the Kentucky Derby and Preakness Stakes this year, will make a special appearance today when he is paraded through the stretch after the fifth race.

Trainer John Longden will accompany the brilliant chestnut three-year-old on the pony, with apprentice jockey Frank Olivares aboard, a winner of nine of ten starts in his career and one of the most popular thoroughbreds of recent times.

Derby Day Boy, victor in the Oceanside Handicap a month ago, won his third race of the season Friday with a hard-earned triumph in the featured $6,000 Viking Spirit Purse before 9,034 fans.

Derby Day Boy, well-placed directly behind a three-horse speed duel by jockey Rudy Rosales, went in the outside on the stretch turn and then wore down Brave Babu to tally by a length in 1:09 flat for the six furlongs.

Two-Year-Olds Should Chase Nutter Brother in Los Ninos

By DAVE DANIEL

Two-year-olds, headed by Nutter Brother, take the spotlight at Los Alamitos tonight when the track offers the $12,000 Los Ninos Purse to determine the male champion of the younger set.

Nutter Brother, a powerful son of Go Man Go, has won five of seven starts this year and has a racing record strongly resembling that of 1963 Los Ninos winner—Kaweah Bar.

The latter went on to win

horse-of-the-year honors after picking up five wins in his first seven starts.

The only two losses that Kaweah Bar suffered as a two-year-old were big ones—the Bay Meadows Futurity and the Los Alamitos Kindergarten Stakes.

Those are the same two races which Nutter Brother has lost in duplicating a five-for-seven performance. He finished second both times.

Melnik Maintains 3-Stroke Lead in U.S. Amateur

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Steve Melnyk, 235-pound University of Florida golfer, scrambled to a two-over-par 34-39-73 with three bogeys and a double bogey on the back nine, but maintained his three-stroke lead after 54 holes Friday in the 69th U.S. Amateur Golf Championship.

The 21-year-old Melnyk appeared ready to run away from the field after a two-under-par front nine sent him six strokes ahead, but he faltered coming home, at one point slipping to a one stroke advantage.

For the second successive day, he birdied the 18th to pay his margin.

Allen Miller, the University of Georgia student who was at a disadvantage when his putter was stolen overnight, is right where he started the day, three strokes back, at 219 after a 37-36-73.

Miller had company as Marvin Vinnie Giles, runner-up in this tournament the past two years, shot a

Associated Press

The $100,000 American Derby at Chicago's Arlington Park and the battle of Shuvee and Gallant Bloom for 3-year-old filly honors at New York's Belmont Park highlights today's thoroughbred racing program.

Arlington has switched to night racing in an effort to boost business but the Derby, a 1 1/4-mile affair for 3-year-olds, will be run off in daylight as the first race on the program.

STILL LEADS AMATEUR

Miss Tops Del Mar Debutante

DEL MAR — Minstrel Miss, the top-ranked two-year-old filly in training in the west, will head a 12-horse field in the $65,225 Del Mar Debutante here today.

The winner of the six-furlong event will earn $43,025 as well as the championship of the local juvenile filly division, and the purse, enriched by four supplementary nominations, ranks as the richest in the 19-year history of the Debutante, one of the most coveted races of its kind in California.

Topping the opposition for the speedy Minstrel Miss are Regal Wine, Astoric Wings, Last Hostess and Thoroly Blue.

The field is completed by Seas 'N Fields, Croshine, Bold Broad, Court Gem, Tales To Tell, Flashing Jet and Chris C. All starters will carry 113 pounds.

Majestic Prince, hero of the Kentucky Derby and Preakness Stakes this year, will make a special appearance today when he is paraded through the stretch after the fifth race.

Trainer John Longden will accompany the brilliant chestnut three-year-old on the pony, with apprentice jockey Frank Olivares aboard, a winner of nine of ten starts in his career and one of the most popular thoroughbreds of recent times.

3 Drivers Shatter Track Mark

ELKHART LAKE, Wis. (UPI) — Three drivers—including the invincible duo of Denis Hulme and Bruce McLaren—all broke the one-lap record at the Road America Course Friday in qualifying for Sunday's Canadian-American challenge cup series race.

Denis Hulme of New Zealand, who had won the last two Can-Am races turned a lap in 2:07.5, an average speed of 112.941 mph in his McLaren M8B.

Bruce McLaren, his teammate, also topped the old mark in the same car, turning a 2:08.6 at an average speed of 111.975 mph.

Indianapolis 500 winner Mario Andretti, making his first appearance on the Can-Am circuit this year, drove a modified McLaren with a Ford engine in 2:09.7 and 111.025 mph.

The old record, set by McLaren last year, was 2:09.8 and 110.34 mph.

Crown Only Game Away for Falcons

Lakewood's Falcons meet either Oxnard or South Gate for the ASA Regional softball crown tonight at 7:30 at Mayfair Park.

Coach Ray Silva's charges will have to be beaten twice to be eliminated, while needing just one win to prepare to go to Springfield, Mo., and the ASA World Tournament Sept. 1-14.

Lakewood will have George Pearson and Ed Klecker ready with Pearson probably getting the first game nod.

Oxnard, beaten 2-0 by the Falcons last week in the winner's bracket finals, is the favorite over South Gate in the 4:45 opener.

Coach George Kinder's Kings have veterans Jack Newman and K. G. Fincher available.

Diliberto Triumphs

Danny Diliberto beat Verne Peterson, 204-150, Friday night and cut his deficit in the challenge match billiard tournament to 750-544 at The Billiard Palace in Beilfower.

Henryk Szordykowski of Poland won the 1,500-meter run in 3:38.2 and Gaston Roelants of Belgium, running almost alone, took the 5,000 meters in 13:44.8.

Officers Back Turtle Tale

By DICK EMERY
Staff Writer

Now that it's been told, and all the world is asking, "Is it true?" here is the testimony on the turtle story.

The big Swedish freighter Citadel, inbound from Europe, brought testimony to Terminal Island late Friday.

Testimony — words of witnesses! No physical evidence — alas, no photographs of the wonderful turtle, nothing like that to prove forever the amazing story of Chung Nam Kim!

Chung Nam Kim himself, 27-year-old Korean deck hand who was rescued at sea by a huge swimming sea turtle — so the story goes — stood by each syllable of the story, in Korean, translated via interpreters to a battery of newsmen.

"This is the story he retold. This is the story verified, in the ending, by the Citadel's captain.

Chung Nam Kim fell overboard from the Liberian freighter Federal Nagara, Friday, Aug. 22, about 100 miles off the west coast of Nicaragua.

"I had felt sick. There had been a party aboard and there had been drinking. I left my bunk and walked on deck. A big wave came and I slipped overboard."

At 4:45 p.m. the same day, the Swedish freighter Citadel, bound for Los Angeles Harbor with a load of automobiles, sighted a man floating in the sea.

The ship was 113 miles off Nicaragua.

Four persons on the Citadel — Captain Horst Werder, Third Officer Billy Fransson, Wireless Operator Bjorn Johanson and Lookout Man Arne Johanson — trained binoculars on the man and they saw — they attested to newsmen on the waterfront Friday — the dark, round back of a huge sea turtle supporting the man in the water.

"I had swum about 13 hours and could swim no more," Chung Nam Kim patiently told newsmen through interpreters.

"I thought I would die.

"Then I saw something moving in the water. I thought it was a shark. But it was a turtle, a big sea turtle swimming. I reached out my arm and took hold of the turtle's shell. He went right on swimming.

"I was holding on. It was like riding him.

"I think he held me up about two hours. Then the ship came. I pushed him away, and he swam down out of sight."

Reporters tore at the tale like coyotes after a rabbit. Question after question brought steady answers from the rescued man, who said over and over: "It was a turtle, for sure. It moved slowly. No, it did not hurt me. My skin was bitten many times by small fish.

"Riding on the turtle, there was a time I thought I was dead."

Edison Switches to Heavier Light Bills

By BILL MAYER
From Our L.A. Bureau

Long Beach hoped to keep street lighting costs intact this year even if other electric bills went up, but the city will face higher er rates along with everybody else.

In fact, percentage increase for arc lights is larger than allowed by the Public Utilities Commission for other uses.

Southern California Edison Company was granted

rate increases for industry running to only 3.5 per cent, and 10.8 per cent for dwellings.

For street lighting the hike will be 13.6 per cent.

Commercial users will pay 7.8 per cent more, and agricultural 9.6.

Long Beach argued any increase in the cost of street lighting would be carried by the rate payer in the lighted area. It would be more efficient, the city's lawyers said, if the higher costs were spread over other classes of service.

The commission disagreed.

"THERE IS nothing to show that the rate payer in the lighted area is the same taxpayer, or that their respective burdens would be the same," the PUC said, "if... increases... were spread over the other classes..."

The new PUC ruling will result in Edison getting $35,139,000 more income during the next year, plus $11,529,000 if the 10 per cent federal surtax remains in force. But the latter increase is temporary. It will be collected as a two per cent surcharge on electric bills only as long as the tax continues.

Edison has asked a $60 million increase for the year ahead, which would have given the company a 7.6 per cent return on its investment.

The commission figures the allowed increases will meet that amount on the part of its investment which the PUC controls.

EDISON HAS some customers whose rates do not fall under PUC jurisdiction, because they are outside the state. The company argued it can't get any rate increases on these accounts. The commission said, in effect, this was not a problem it ought to concern itself with.

The commission also granted increases amounting to $6.5 million to the Southern California and Southern Counties Gas companies for the next year, plus other increases if costs go up.

These latter hikes could run as high as $7,738,000 through Dec. 31.

Hire the 40 Plus, L.B. Mayor Urges

A mayor's proclamation Friday urged Long Beach employers and labor leaders to "take note of the greater experience and ability" of workers over 40 when filling job openings.

The proclamation, issued by the office of Mayor Edwin Wade, was in support of "Hire the 40 Plus Workers Week," Sept. 15-19.

IT NOTED WORKERS OVER 40 "are among the most competent, productive and dependable."

"It has been established by comparison studies of millions of workers that creativity and resourcefulness do not diminish with age — but that such qualities improve by practice and experience," the proclamation stated.

"On-the-job performance records have established that the 40-plus worker maintains above-average attendance records, lower turnover rates, better safety records and needs less supervision than the average worker..."

Thirty-two of California's oldest residents — ranging in age from 100 to 107 — live in the Long Beach area, it was announced Friday.

But Mrs. Tatzumbie DuPea, a Paiute Indian born in Lone Pine, who appeared in 40 movies during a 30-year show business career, tops them all.

The Los Angeles woman is 120 years old.

The California Bicentennial Commission compiled the roster of California's 200 oldest residents in which the names of Mrs. DuPea and the 32 Long Beach-area senior citizens were listed.

Among them are Roy D. White, 107, of 125 Daisy Ave.; Jose Rivera, 104, of 8520 Western Ave., Buena Park; Mrs. Mina Christensen, 103, of 3850 Esther St. and Mrs. Emma B. Smith, 103, of 1103 St. Louis Ave.

Boys' Clubs

Due 'Vacation'

Operations will come to a stop for two weeks at all four branches of Boys' Clubs of Long Beach, beginning Sept. 8.

Herb Read, managing director, said the shut-down is needed to refurbish the clubs, which will open Sept. 22 with their new fall program.

The four branches are located at 1835 Willard St., 711 Via Wanda, 1205 Freeman Ave., and 4654 Charlemagne Ave.

WHAT'S HAPPENING

NEW ROLLER COASTER TO ROAR
Royal Cyclone Opens At Queen's Park

BUT SHORTER RIDE

Roller Coaster's Roar Back in L.B.

The world's "highest, fastest, steepest ride" — one of Long Beach's biggest attractions for 30 years — is back on the strand today in miniature.

The Royal Cyclone, a red, white and blue roller coaster made in Italy, will replace the Nu-Pike's old Cyclone Racer after almost a year without a roller coaster's roar on the beach.

The new Cyclone boasts more than a half-mile of track. Its eight cars hold 32 riders. It reaches speeds of 70 miles per hour plunging from a height of six stories.

"We're pleased to bring back the world's most popular amusement ride — the roller coaster — to Long Beach," said Russ Priebe, president of Long Beach Amusement Co., which operates the Queen's Park section of the Pike.

He said the Royal Cyclone will be illuminated by 3,500 lights at night, making it the brightest night-time amusement ride in America.

IT'S THE ONLY COASTER OF ITS KIND in the U.S., Priebe said. Similar rides are in Blackpool, England, and Munich, Germany.

The old Cyclone Racer rolled its last hair-raising mile Sept. 15, 1968, when it was closed and torn down to make room for the access road system to the proposed Magnolia Avenue bridge complex.

The Nu-Pike was also planning major redevelopment.

The old roller coaster was held together by a million bolts, one million board feet of prime Oregon lumber, 50 kegs of nails — and the memories of 25 million riders.

The Cyclone Racer went in the junk heap — but only after patrons waited in lines nearly two blocks long to get their last ride.

It was the last regularly running roller coaster in the Southland.

It was officially opened Memorial Day 1930, and took the place of a small roller coaster, called the "Jackrabbit," which had been operating since 1914.

The Cyclone Racer ran a full mile, climbed more than 100 feet high, and trains averaged 55 miles per hour.

THE CYCLONE RACER HAD FOUR TRAINS and could carry 1,600 people each hour.

Ten full-time employees operated and maintained the roller coaster, walking the tracks each day for inspection and routine maintenance.

A score of movies were filmed at the Cyclone Racer, including Abbott and Costello classics, Cinerama's "It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World," and a late-50s shocker titled "Monster From the Bottom of the Sea," in which a monster emerged from the ocean and swallowed the end of the ride.

"We realize the great amount of emotion attached to the Racer," said Dr. Frank Stanton Jr., president of the amusement company, last year. "But retaining the Cyclone Racer in its present site would be a move contrary to the progress of our community."

"There will never be another coaster to equal the Cyclone Racer," he said.

The Royal Cyclone won't equal it for the older generation, but it may give a new generation the same thrills.

City to Lose Ocean Research Facility

North American Rockwell Corp. definitely will transfer its ocean research center from Long Beach to Seal Beach, a company spokesman confirmed Friday.

And City Manager John Mansell says the corporation has already put out feelers for prospective new tenants for the facility, located at the old Navy Landing site at the foot of Golden Avenue.

The corporation spokesman said the ocean research center would be moved to the North American Rockwell plant in Seal Beach in October.

It's still in doubt how much North American's departure will affect Long Beach's growing reputation in oceanographic research.

beautiful one geared exactly to our purposes, but it just isn't good business to keep 100 people in leased facilities when we have space in our own plants."

As North American's work on the Apollo moon rocket progressed, he said, the need to maintain the original heavy work force diminished at the corporation's Seal Beach and Downey plants.

The result was considerable unused space.

Also, Mansell said, the corporation's growth in ocean research didn't measure up to expectations.

"We expected to be twice the size we were two years ago," he said. "Instead, we've stayed the same."

He blamed the oil industry's reluctance to initiate more submerged or under-sea oil production after the Santa Barbara leak and a big oil find in Alaska.

Both Mansell and city officials denied they were "frantically" looking for a new tenant at the Navy Landing.

Mansell said the city has a five-year lease agreement obliging the corporation to pay an annual rent of $244,066 and the agreement has three years to run.

The city, he said, won't lose any money.

CSLB Sets Wide Range of Courses

By WALT MURRAY
Staff Writer

Courses ranging from "The Psychology of Poverty" to "Astronomy and Astrophysics" to "Jurisprudence" will be offered next month in the experimental courses program at California State College at Long Beach.

The classes can be taken for credit, unlike courses offered in the student-sponsored experimental college.

"We hope to permit a more flexible and rapid response to new situations, ideas and needs," says Dr. Royd A. Davis, associate dean of curriculum.

"We also want to encourage new departures in methods of instruction."

Fourteen of the 32 courses offered will be in ethnic studies, black studies and Mexican-American studies. Several more also deal with racial minority affairs.

Examples are "The Indian in Contemporary America," "Geography and Culture of Pan-African Peoples" and "Justice and the Mexican-American."

STUDENTS in the "psychology of poverty" course, taught by Dr. James Linden, will study poverty through informal discussions, readings and field work with low-income families in the Long Beach area.

Another class, "Management of Minority Enterprise," will take on business problems and opportunities confronting minority entrepreneurs.

Emphasis will be on individual and team consulting with small businessmen of racial minority descent in the Southland.

"Science Fiction and Speculative Fantasy" will view the origins and contemporary art of science fiction.

Up to 12 units of experimental courses may be applied for credit toward a bachelor's degree, Dr. Davis says.

But, he adds, experimental courses won't necessarily be accepted for transfer credit by other colleges.

Each course may be offered for three years, Dr. Davis says, and then an evaluation will determine if it will be dropped or included in the regular college curriculum.

Several courses will also be offered in the noncredit Experimental College, sponsored by the Associated Students.

Hospital Work Months Behind as Strike Ends

Completion of major projects at Long Beach Memorial Hospital has been delayed several months by the just ended strike of the operating engineers, hospital officials said Friday.

Work on a children's hospital medical center, quarters for three community clinics for youngsters and expansion of emergency room facilities was "severely affected" by the strike.

The continuing plumbers strike against contractors is still slowing construction.

Before the strike, hospital officials said, the 114-bed Miller Children's Hospital Medical Center had been scheduled to open by the middle of next year.

But the opening may be delayed to the end of 1970, or later, hospital officials said.

Chipper Has Departed His Drain

Chipper the Chipmunk had a good life.

He lived in a storm drain in front of a cocktail lounge and restaurant at 615 Pine Ave. and thus was supplied with some of the luxuries of modern living most chipmunks never even hear of — much less taste.

It was even said that on some occasions as he came out of his hole to watch the traffic he was seen to weave a bit.

Maybe that's what caused the tiny creature to get killed in action early Friday.

He was not given a blood-alcohol test.

There will be no inquest.

Officers Back Turtle Tale

By DICK EMERY
Staff Writer

Now that it's been told, and all the world is asking, "Is it true?" here is the testimony on the turtle story.

The big Swedish freighter Citadel, inbound from Europe, brought testimony to Terminal Island late Friday.

Testimony — words of witnesses! No physical evidence — alas, no photographs of the wonderful turtle, nothing like that to prove forever the amazing story of Chung Nam Kim!

Chung Nam Kim himself, 27-year-old Korean deck hand who was rescued at sea by a huge swimming sea turtle — so the story goes — stood by each syllable of the story, in Korean, translated via interpreters to a battery of newsmen.

This is the story he retold. This is the story verified, in the ending, by the Citadel's captain.

Chung Nam Kim fell overboard from the Liberian freighter Federal Nagara, Friday, Aug. 22, about 100 miles off the west coast of Nicaragua.

"I had felt sick. There had been a party aboard and there had been drinking. I left my bunk and walked on deck. A big wave came and I slipped overboard."

At 4:45 p.m. the same day, the Swedish freighter Citadel, bound for Los Angeles Harbor with a load of automobiles, sighted a man floating in the sea.

The ship was 113 miles off Nicaragua.

Four persons on the Citadel — Captain Horst Werder, Third Officer Billy Fransson, Wireless Operator Bjorn Johanson and Lookout Man Arne Johanson — trained binoculars on the man and they saw — they attested to newsmen on the waterfront Friday — the dark, round back of a huge sea turtle supporting the man in the water.

"I had swum about 13 hours and could swim no more," Chung Nam Kim patiently told newsmen through interpreters.

INDEPENDENT PRESS-TELEGRAM

SATURDAY, AUG. 30, 1969 SECTION C—Page C-1

"I thought I would die.

"Then I saw something moving in the water. I thought it was a shark. But it was a turtle, a big sea turtle swimming. I reached out my arm and took hold of the turtle's shell. He went right on swimming.

"I was holding on. It was like riding him.

"I think he held me up about two hours. Then the ship came. I pushed him away, and he swam down out of sight."

Reporters tore at the tale like coyotes after a rabbit. Question after question brought steady answers from the rescued man, who said over and over: "It was a turtle, for sure. It moved slowly. No, it did not hurt me. My skin was bitten many times by small fish.

"Riding on the turtle, there was a time I thought I was dead."

Edison Switches to Heavier Light Bills

By BILL MAYER
From Our L.A. Bureau

Long Beach hoped to keep street lighting costs intact this year even if other electric bills went up, but the city will face higher rates along with everybody else.

Southern California Edison Company was granted

rate increases for industry running to only 3.5 per cent, and 10.8 per cent for dwellings.

For street lighting the hike will be 13.6 per cent.

Commercial users will pay 7.8 per cent more, and agricultural 9.5.

Long Beach argued any increase in the cost of street lighting would be carried by the rate payer in the lighted area. It would be more efficient, the city's lawyers said, if the higher costs were spread over other classes of service.

The commission disagreed.

"THERE IS nothing to show that the rate payer in the lighted area is the same taxpayer, or that their respective burdens would be the same," the PUC said, "if... increases... were spread over the other classes..."

The new PUC ruling will result in Edison getting $35,139,000 more income during the next year, plus $11,529,000 if the 10 per cent federal surtax remains in force. But the latter increase is temporary. It will be collected as a two per cent surcharge on electric bills only as long as the tax continues.

Bainbridge Returns for Refurbishing

The USS Bainbridge returned here to home port Friday after a two-year absence for extensive refurbishing and a second deployment to Vietnam.

The Bainbridge's crew of 29 officers and 480 enlisted men under Capt. James H. Doyle Jr. underwent a "home port switch" in 1967 when the ship was sent to Vallejo for 16 months of shipyard work.

The world's first nuclear-powered missile frigate completed reactor refueling while living spaces were modernized and communications and electronic gear was updated.

The ship was deployed to Vietnam in 1968 for search and rescue work in the Tonkin Gulf.
